State Tax Hikes Inevitable, Legislators Say

Will Get News on Wednesday Budget Deficit Is Over 220 Million

By CHARLES DUMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller is expected to confront the opening session of the 1959 Legislature Wednesday with the news that state taxes must be increased.

During the last few days, the Legislature's Republican leaders have made it clear that they expect such a request and probably will go along.

Can't Help It, Heck

The latest was Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, who declared Monday night that Rockefeller would have to raise taxes to cover a budget deficit of more than 220 million dollars.

"He can't help it," Heck added sympathetically.

The day before, the Assembly's GOP majority leader, Joseph F. Carlini, said it was "pretty definitely understood" that the gasoline and cigarette taxes would have to be increased.

Heck and Carlini both talked favorably of another move Rockefeller has in mind—putting the state income tax on a payroll withholding basis, like the federal tax.

Studies Regents' Request

At the same time, Heck's counterpart in the Senate, Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, sounded a conservative note on new spending. Mahoney said the Board of Regents' request for 123 million dollars more in education funds would be considered "in the light of the state's strained financial condition."

More than a month ago, Mahoney indicated he was ready to raise the gas tax after years of opposing attempts to do so.

Means of 72 Million

Thus, as the 1959 Legislature prepared to convene, the outlook was that, sometime during the session, Rockefeller would:

1. Propose raising the gasoline tax from four to six cents a gallon, a move that would return about 72 million dollars extra revenue a year.

Would Catch Dodgers

2. Advocate a one-cent increase in the cigarette tax, from three to four cents a package, which would produce another 22½ million.

Recommend a Withholding

3. Recommend a withholding system for the state income tax, which would add around 35 million dollars to the tax yield largely by catching persons who fail to file returns or to pay what they owe.

Like Carlini, Heck said he doubted the state would impose a "double bite" on the income taxpayer.

There has been speculation that, if the withholding plan were adopted this year, New Yorkers would have to pay two years' taxes at the same time—the payments on their 1958 taxes and the withholding for 1959.

Carlini said part or all of the 1958 tax might be written off.

GOP Holds Sway

Rockefeller will deliver his first annual message to a largely friendly audience. The Republicans hold virtually as heavy majorities in both houses of the Legislature as they did during the four-year tenure of Democrat Averell Harriman.

Heck said the GOP majorities would work with Rockefeller as a team, in the same manner as with Thomas E. Dewey, when he was governor.

Heck spoke on these other subjects in his interview:

The Regents Plan—"It took my (Continued on Page 8, Col. 7)

Area Milk Suppliers Seek Liberalized Market Order

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — Dairy farmers who supply milk to Southeastern New York were all set to ask for a liberalized milk marketing order today at a public hearing.

The hearing was called by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under terms of order 27—the federal milk marketing order governing the price of milk in the New York-New Jersey marketing area.

Observers say no drastic change in the price of milk to the consumer is expected to result from the hearing.

Under the order, the secretary of agriculture must call a hearing to consider the price of fluid milk whenever the price has been more than $2.50 or less than $1.00 above the average mid-western price for three months' running.

Since last August, the eastern price of fluid milk has exceeded that paid in the Midwest by more than $2.50 a hundredweight for each month.

In November, for example,

7 Airmen Perish in Dorm Fire

Syracuse Tragedy Also Injures 13

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Wind-blown fire killed at least seven student airmen and injured 13 today as they fought like animals to escape from their barracks dormitory at Syracuse University.

"It was like animals trying to get out of a cage," moaned Sgt. Peter Dowling, 25, Kalamazoo, Mich., in his hospital bed.

Names Withheld

The one-story, prefabricated barracks housed 45 Air Force men assigned to the university to study Russian. Their headquarters was at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Names of the dead were withheld until next of kin could be notified.

Fire officials said the fire apparently started from a heating unit as the students slept.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour whipped the flames into "a river of fire," said Donald Dowling, 19, Rochester, another of the injured.

"I heard a crackling sound. I thought it was the man who comes around to wake us up. I saw an orange light filtering through the door. I got out of bed and opened the door. It was a river of fire going down the hall. I was terrified," he said.

Peter Dowling, unrelated to Donald, told of trying to reach a fire extinguisher outside his room.

"But the fire and smoke were so great that I couldn't stand it," he told reporters. "Everybody was jumping out of windows."

Many Cut by Glass

He and his roommate, Sgt. Thomas Merfeld of LaCrosse, Wis., broke through a window of their room.

Many of the men were cut by window glass.

The 22-story, clapboard-type building, in the university's Skytop housing development on a hill overlooking the city, "went up like a matchbox," Dowling said.

Just Reached School

Firemen, in near-zero weather and blowing snow, controlled the flames about an hour and a half after the fire was discovered, at 6 a.m. Fifteen barracks are in a clump on the hill, on the southeastern edge of the city.

The students, all single, had just arrived to take a nine-month crash program that stresses Russian. The program, established in the 1940s, is subsidized by the government for the Air Force.

Watson on Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines Corp., Monday was elected to the board of directors of Time Inc. He succeeds the late William V. Griffin. Watson also is a director of the Bankers Trust and the Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Belong to People Now

Castro was escorted by planes, tanks, jeeps and other military equipment which, he told the people, had been sent to attack him and now were escorting him.

"They are the same tanks but now they belong to the people," he said.

Among the Castro supporters who came to the surface was movie hero Errol Flynn, who said he spent the last week of the revolt ducking bullets with the rebel forces.

The 50-year-old actor didn't duck all the way behind a post in a sugar mill battle and was nicked in the right leg, he told reporters in Havana.

MIKOYAN AND DULLES IN MEETING—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Secretary of State Dulles are seated together as they meet at the State Department in Washington.

Free West Access To Stay: Mikoyan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan was reported today to have assured the United States of continued free Western access to Berlin.

Such a pledge would go to the heart of the current East-West tension over Berlin's future. It would signal a major concession by the Kremlin to the West's objections to Soviet demands to make a "free city" of Berlin.

Lays Cards on Table

Mikoyan was understood to have told high level State Department, business and congressional leaders Monday night:

1. The Soviet Union is determined to turn over administration of East Berlin to the puppet East German Communist regime, regardless of U.S.-British-French Denunciation of the plan.
2. The Soviet Union is not trying to throw the Allies out of West Berlin, even though Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a Nov. 27 note, suggested withdrawal of all Allied troops from the city.
3. The Soviet Union simply feels the time has come, 13 years after the end of World War II, to give Berlin a new status.

Says Big Three Remiss

4. The United States, Britain and France, in replying last week to Khrushchev's note, were remiss in not coming up with some counter-proposal which might have provided the basis for negotiation.

5. The Soviet decision to hand East Berlin over to East Germany by next May in no way implies a peace-or-war ultimatum; continued free access to Berlin, 110 miles inside East Germany, could be arranged, and a role may be found for the United Nations to be played in guaranteeing this.

Talks at Dinner

The 63-year-old Mikoyan, second in Kremlin power only to Khrushchev, laid these cards on the table in replying to questions at an exclusive dinner given for him by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn., of America.

Johnston was apologetic afterward for inviting some newsmen and letting others shiver under his swank headquarters in 15-degree temperature. He said the five invited were "personal friends."

Fire Big Threat at Napanoch

Roof Blown Off Woodstock Firm; Many Lose Power

Winds with peak gusts estimated at 75 MPH struck savagely in Ulster County during the night, causing power failures and extensive damage involving shingles, roofs, antennas, garages and barns.

A roof on a large lamp factory, the J. F. Marr Co., Inc., Woodstock, was torn off by a freak wind of unusual intensity, at least one trailer was reported flipped over by the heavy gusts, and fire destroyed an abandoned building in Napanoch formerly used for the manufacture of ax handles.

Homes Threatened

The Napanoch fire leveled a two-story frame structure owned by Edith VanWert. It had reportedly been unoccupied for several decades.

Flames, pieces of burning wood, sparks and "balls of fire" threatened homes across Route 55, reportedly setting fire to a tavern and hedges in the vicinity, but firemen from Napanoch, Ellenville, Woodbourne and Waverly kept the fires under control with only small damage resulting.

Heavy damage to utilities was reported north of Kingston and in the Woodstock, Bearsville, Saugerties and Phoenicia areas.

Work All Night

Some 1,300 people in the Lincoln and Sunset Park areas were without electricity early last night when a tree on Route 9W near the old Airport Inn fell across an electric cable. A spokesman for Central Hudson said this morning that emergency crews had worked all night repairing damages in various parts of the county. Power had been restored in the two sections today.

Barn Blown Over

The most concentrated trouble center was on Route 212 between Woodstock and Saugerties where some 40 subscribers were without telephone service. Dalton said crews were working all night to restore the line.

He said a barn blew over and damaged cables on Route 212. Damage elsewhere was caused by falling trees and limbs.

Building Collapses

The Marr lamp factory in the village of Woodstock lost its entire roof, which covered some 30,000 square feet of floor space, as wind with freakish intensity picked it up "like a piece of newspaper." About two-thirds of the building was collapsed by the wind.

Roland Augustine of Kingston, who handles insurance on the building, said the structure was one-story high and of concrete block construction. No estimate (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Work Progresses To Raise Tug at Reliance Marine

Preliminary work is being done at the yards of the Reliance Marine Transportation and Construction Corporation of 615 Abel Street toward raising the tug "Margaret Feeney" which sank near the company dock on December 13. The 90 by 22 foot tug apparently was damaged by heavy ice and sprung a leak early Saturday, December 13, after arriving Friday evening from a trip on the river. The tug is used between New York and the Barge Canal.

Anchorage for lines are being constructed on the dock, booms are being erected on two steel barges in the creek and other preliminary work is progressing. It is planned to have a diver place cables under the tug and pumps will endeavor to pump out the partially sunken tug. Cold weather is hampering the work and it may be Friday or next Monday before efforts to raise the tug will be made.

Horticultural Secretary Appointed to State Post

Daniel M. Dalrymple, 54, Lockport fruit grower, and John H. Stone, 47, a dairy farmer near Watertown, were appointed assistant commissioners of agriculture yesterday by State Agriculture and Markets Commissioner Don J. Wickham.

Dalrymple is well known to local fruit growers, having served for 12 years as secretary of the New York State Horticultural Society which holds annual meetings in Kingston during January.

Dalrymple succeeds James G. Lyons of Monticello who served under the state Democratic administration. The salary is $17,000 a year. Stone replaces Paul Smith of Newark Valley. His salary is $15,900 a year.

Aged Kerhonkson Man Found Dead Of Strangulation

Jason Baker, 81, Kerhonkson, was found dead from strangulation in the garage of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Booth, yesterday afternoon about 2:45 when his daughter arrived home from work. Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson and Troopers William Shurtler and T. J. Waterman of the Ellenville station investigated. Dr. Alfred M. Feldshuh of Kerhonkson pronounced the man dead.

Baker, a retired farmer, was found by his daughter hanged in the garage. He had been ill and is reported to have grieved over the death of his wife, the former Jessie Freer, who died in 1950. Born in the town of Rochester in July 1877, son of the late Joseph and Mary Miller Baker, he had resided with his daughter for some time. When Mrs. Booth reached home she noticed her father had not eaten his lunch and on investigating found him in the garage. Dr. Feldshuh and state police were summoned and Coroner Chipp called. Coroner Chipp gave a verdict of "apparent suicide by strangulation."

Beside his daughter, Mrs. Paul Booth of Kerhonkson, he is survived by a son, Ross Baker of Riverside Park, town of Hurley; five grandchildren, three great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Baker, who had an aversion to hospitals had been suffering from a slight attack of pneumonia, officials reported, and had an appointment with a physician for 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonkson, with the Rev. Paul Babich of the Federated Church of Kerhonkson officiating. ### Bee Day

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — This town has had its "bee" day. The bees sent three persons to the hospital and caused the wrecking of two cars in separate incidents. He was taken to the hospital by police emergency car. A police sergeant was directing traffic when stung on the knee.

PSC Hears Acker On Boost Plea

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP) — The State Public Service Commission opened a hearing today on a proposed seven per cent increase in electric rates by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

About 75 persons were present as the hearing began before PSC Examiner Harold M. Olmsted. Included were representatives of taxpayer groups opposing the move.

First to be heard was Ernest R. Acker, Central Hudson president. He said the rate increase was essential to the maintenance of a sound financial position by his company.

Acker said the rate increase, scheduled to become effective in February, would be the first by Central Hudson since 1951.

The proposed increase would affect about 125,000 customers of the company in the central Hudson Valley area.

Clapp said he suggested Gardner turn his daughter over to California officers when the father telephoned last weekend. "No, I'll take her back myself," he quoted Gardner. "We'll drive all night if necessary."

He described the father as "quite a forceful man on his ideas of right and wrong. There was only one thing in his mind and that was to bring her back."

Mrs. Gardner, serving a forgery term, flees with two other women inmates. One remains at large. El Monte is 900 miles from here.

Three Predictions Appear Safe About New Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Three predictions about the new Congress seem safe: It will be more liberal-minded than its predecessor; a big fight among Democrats is unlikely; the split among Republicans will probably continue.

These predictions have their roots in the November elections where the voters, showing distaste for the Democrats' overwhelming majorities in House and Senate.

Score Card Tells Story
A look at the score-card tells the story. Last year Democrats outnumbered Republicans in the House 235-200, this year 283-153. Last year Democrats outnumbered Senate Republicans by a paper-thin 49-47; this year 64-34.

Now a bloc of liberal Senate Republicans, interpreting the election as a demand for more progressive Republicanism, are trying to take over the leadership from a band of Republican conservatives.

They may lose. But, having declared themselves, they can hardly line up on the conservative side for the rest of 1959.

The fight that broke out Monday among House Republicans over their leadership is of a different kind, looks more like a power struggle. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana wants to unseat Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, with whom he worked hand-in-glove for years. Both are conservatives.

Won't Heal Fast
The wounds inflicted in such an intraparty fight are not the kind to heal fast.

The Democrats, of course, will have some troubles among themselves. Among them, a bloc of Northern Democrats will fight Southern Democrats over making it easier to smash a Senate filibuster. This isn't strictly intraparty. Some Republicans will line up with Southern Democrats, some with the Northern Democrats.

The elections gave the Democrats an infusion of new blood in both houses. This is bound to have an effect on the two Democratic Texans who head the two houses; Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. They also tend to be conservative.

Rayburn and Johnson are both conscious of the implications in the last election and the more Democrats they have to deal with the more concessions they will have to make to line up solid Democratic support.

Rayburn and Johnson are both master politicians. They have probably had no superiors in this century in congressional leadership. Probably none has been more influential in getting what he wanted done.

Rayburn was supposed to have faced a fight from liberal House Democrats over the House Rules Committee which has been a traditional citadel for Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans.

This committee, under House rules, has been able to bottle up legislation its members didn't like. There was supposed to have been a fight to break this committee's power. Now Rayburn reportedly has put out the fire before it started.

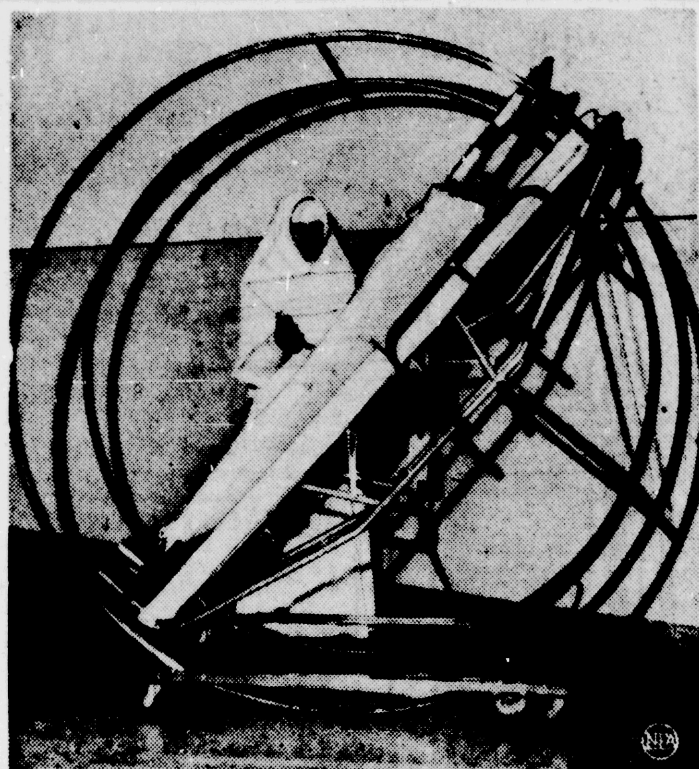

In the Senate Johnson has been a magician in getting fellow Democrats to work with him. He has to make concessions and grant favors to get cooperation. You can be sure he's doing the same with the new Democrats already.

Nevertheless, just because he has to make concessions, Johnson will be under pressure from the newcomers and the more liberal-minded Democrats to steer away from a too-conservative course. He saw what happened to the Republicans.

VOORHEESVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Floyd Hallock, 65, of Rotterdam, was injured fatally Monday when an unmanned fire truck lurched forward during a pumping test and pinned him against a wall.

Suggests Lower Night Tolls on State Thruway

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Lower tolls on the Thruway, says the head of the State Automobile Assn., might mean more business and a higher income.

Harry B. Crowley, president of the association, said Monday night that the recent increases made tolls "highly inequitable to the motorist."

He also suggested in a letter to the Thruway Authority that lower tolls at night would attract more business, especially trucks. This has been successful in Florida, he said.

The tolls for passenger automobiles were raised about 25 per cent on Jan. 1. The truck rates stayed the same. The Thruway has said higher operating costs and less truck travel than anticipated made the increases necessary.

Deliverers Denied Injunction Plea

BAY SHORE, N. Y. (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice D. Ormonde Ritchie has held in a formal opinion that members of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union have committed "numerous acts of violence and unlawfulness."

Ritchie filed the opinion Monday on a motion by the union to vacate a temporary injunction forbidding members to picket Newsday, Long Island newspaper.

Ritchie had denied the union plea without comment Saturday, after a hearing on the injunction held in his chambers Friday.

The union was temporarily enjoined last Tuesday from picketing Newsday's plant in Garden City, L. I.

A hearing on making the injunction permanent was scheduled today at Mineola, the Nassau County seat.

In the opinion, Ritchie said "there is no labor dispute at Newsday." He said "the court is convinced that numerous acts of violence and unlawfulness have been committed by members of the defendant union."

The union, which recently ended a 19-day strike against nine major New York City daily newspapers, had picketed Newsday for several weeks in what it called an organizing drive.

"This team will report back as soon as possible to the Milk Regulation Board so that appropriate action might be taken," a board spokesman said.

The board said it received evidence at a State House session Monday that milk which was not inspected by Massachusetts authorities had been shipped into this state by plants located in New York and Michigan.

Four Will Face Murder Count in Eve Robbery Try

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Carman F. Ball says four young men will be charged with first-degree murder in the shooting of a man in his bed during an attempted robbery New Year's Eve.

The victim, George A. Simon, 48, died of a chest wound Monday night. Police said a gang of hoodlums broke into his small home, beat him and then shot him with a revolver.

They said the attackers apparently had mistaken Simon for someone else who had lived in the house before he moved in. They escaped without any loot.

Police said the four were traced through a watch left at the scene. They are Daniel J. DiLopa, 18; Mario Gugino, 18; Charles J. Barone, 23; and Vincent Santangelo, 19.

They had been charged with first-degree assault and burglary.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Federal income tax returns for 1958 have arrived and they look much like the forms of other years. You have until April 15 to file a return.

One change in the 1958 form permits taxpayers whose income is less than $10,000 to use the card form 1040 A, provided the income consists of wages reported on Form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding. In other years this form could be used only by taxpayers whose income did not exceed $5,000.

There are also significant changes in the rules for reporting employees' expense allowances.

You can start any time now with the annual struggle.

SPOTLIGHT ON STOCKS

As the curtain goes down on 1958, the stock market occupies the center of the stage in American economic life. It holds the attention of many who have not previously been interested in it. Activity in shares trading has been tremendous.

The stock market, always a main focus for investment of risk capital, has become a major repository for the investment of individual savings also. Mutual funds, offering participation at low prices in a wide variety of stocks, have greatly increased in number. Some brokers now carry investment share accounts that permit individuals to buy stocks on a monthly payment basis.

Nor does this increase in interest in the stock market indicate that a speculative fever has gripped the investing public. People with savings are not investing intemperately, and they couldn't if they wanted to. Stocks, under present Federal Reserve Board regulations, must be paid for with 90 per cent cash.

The "let's get rich quick" idea doesn't seem to be at all prevalent. Rather, the small investor is looking to the stock market as his means of expressing a general confidence in the future—a bright future for American business enterprise in which he would like to share.

Why not secure your tag now and avoid the long lines which are certain to form just before the final hours?

The Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau on Main Street will be open on Saturday mornings, January 10, 17, 24 and 31 for the convenience of those who cannot secure their tags on other weekdays when the office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

WEATHER VANES

It cannot be said that economic predictions are a dime a dozen at year's end. The supply is much better than that. The supply is so plentiful that it is hard to turn around without running into a prediction.

Some predictions are better than others. We have no illusions that we can point to one with the absolute ring of certitude in it. But it is worth noting that spokesmen for railroads, aircraft and scrap iron and steel purport to see a brisk year ahead. It also is worth noting that the head of the

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
POLICE GRIEVANCES

No one is conscripted to join a police force in this country. No one is ever required to be a policeman. It is a job sought after, with full knowledge in advance of employment of the rules and regulations governing the person who enters upon such a career. For the risk a man is expected to take on the police force, it is a poorly paid position, but that is known, too, well in advance, the salary at every stage being governed by legislation and is published.

Once on a police force, a man can better himself economically by diligent service, by passing examinations and getting promotions or by being a thief. Thievery on any police force usually is of two kinds: 1. By accepting money to permit criminal or lawless elements to operate; 2. By shaking down law-abiding citizens, such as storekeepers, or building contractors for real or concocted violations.

A decent head of a police department faces great difficulties which are in the nature of a police organization. He must maintain discipline, rigid positive discipline or his police force falls apart and becomes corrupt. He must be sure that the men and women under him attend to business and that they are not thieves. But discipline is difficult to maintain under Civil Service provisions.

The attempt to unionize the police force of New York City or anywhere is basically an effort to transfer disciplinary powers from a Police Commissioner to a labor union. The outcry against this particular move is that it is objectionable because James Hoffa is responsible for it. Actually it is a dangerous movement whether James Hoffa or anyone else is involved because it will destroy the power to discipline in an organization where discipline is the essence of existence. To object to Hoffa is to miss the point that the idea itself is objectionable.

Let's look at some examples: two patrolmen operate in a prowl car. A check-up of their activities indicates that they are feathering their own nests in various ways. It is not smart to bring them up on charges because the valiant citizens whose complaints led to the investigation, fear to testify. The best way to handle that situation is to take them out of the prowl car, transfer them to different areas and have them pound a beat for six months. They will not misunderstand. The discipline could turn them into decent cops.

A modern city is large, widespread and in spots uninteresting. Some police are needed for the center of things, others for the dull and distant outposts. Usually, when police are told to work in the dull and distant outposts, they complain and some even quit. Their work is too far from home! Suppose there were a grievance board and each policeman who was sent to do his work where he does not want to do it, called the transfer discrimination or suppose he used political influence to keep him on the same beat all his days, what kind of a disciplined force would the police have?

Nowadays in a city like New York, the police organize religious or benevolent associations which give the impression of great nobility. And that may be the original intention. Such organizations soon become as protective as labor unions because they raise false issues.

For instance, let us say, without prejudice, that an inspector retires. This inspector was of Irish descent. His predecessor was of Irish descent. The Police Commissioner has a man for this job, who fits it perfectly, has had special training for it. But he is of Italian or Jewish or just plain Yankee descent. Immediately the issue is raised: this job belongs to the Irish. It is also true vice versa. The fragmentation of our people is encouraged by the elected politicians because they find it an easy method to negotiate for bloc voting and they do everything possible to prevent a competent administration from turning his department into Americans without regard to race, creed or color. There are no votes to be got that way.

A so-called grievance board would become another instrument for political interference with the police. What is required is more stringent discipline, constant movement of men about the city and a rigid shifting of men from jobs that are easy to jobs that are hard. That will make any city safer.

Protein Is the Basic Food

Which Makes Life Possible

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

The proteins differ from the fats and the starches in that they contain nitrogen in varying amounts.

Nitrogen is necessary for life. Although nitrogen makes up about three-fourths of the air we breathe, this nitrogen is merely breathed in and out with the air and cannot be used by the body. It must be obtained from food in order to be used.

Some of the many kinds of proteins are extremely complex. They are made up of varying numbers and combinations of the 22 known amino acids, which are sometimes called the building blocks of proteins.

An insufficient protein diet over a long period of time leads to improper distribution of water in the body. This causes the development of dropsy, or edema, in which water accumulates in the body tissue.

A wasting of tissue also occurs. There is a decline in the ability of the body to produce heat. Protein deficiency may follow some illness which does not allow the food to pass to the digestive tract and be absorbed there. Loss of appetite is a common cause—or sometimes a sign—of insufficient protein in the food.

In most illnesses in which there is fever, an excessive breakdown of the body protein occurs. The production of hemoglobin, which is the coloring matter of the blood, depends largely on the amount and quality of the protein in the diet.

Thus anemia is another sign which develops either when there is insufficient protein in the diet or when it is poorly absorbed by the body.

Probably the best sources of protein for the human body are the animal proteins such as meat, eggs, fish and cheese. These are usually considered of greater value than the proteins of plant origin which are contained in cereals, nuts and certain vegetables.

However, cost and availability have to be considered. Animal proteins are obtained only by feeding large quantities of plants to animals. Consequently, the cost of animal proteins is high. Fish and other protein-containing sea foods, however, are in a class by themselves. Obviously, many people have to obtain their proteins from plants rather than from animals or fish. No matter how you get them, protein foods are needed by the human body.

Maritime Administration says shipbuilding is at the highest peacetime level in history.

These things are no guarantee of prosperity. But they are economic weather vanes that indicate a continued business rise in 1959.

Could there be any connection between Chicago's popularity as a political convention site and its designation as the Windy City?

"Hey!"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Near-ly every time the master minds of government planning try to mold public opinion by publicity tricks they get into trouble. Most recent example of this was the publicity job done on the orbiting four-ton Atlas missile.

No one denies this was a successful and important launching. But in trying to build it up into the greatest thing since the original appearance of the Star of Bethlehem a lot of claims were made that simply weren't so.

First mistake may have been to fire this missile in complete secrecy, without briefing reporters in advance on what was going on. They had no chance to check out this data in filing first reports after launching.

Later corrections never quite caught up with the false impression given the American people. This was that the U. S. is now way ahead of Russia on missile development, and there is nothing to worry about for the future.

The Russians weren't fooled by this for a minute. Neither were American scientists who know their way in space.

THE IDEA OF PUTTING the case of the missile into orbit, along with Titan, Jupiter and Thor, do the practically the same thing. Each costs hundreds of millions of dollars. But to cancel out one of either pair would be a setback for its manufacturer.

THE OVERALL AVIATION industry picture isn't too bad. General Cook anticipates total sales of around 10 billion dollars in 1959, seven billion going to the 12 major aircraft manufacturers.

The backlog of orders is put at 13 billion dollars—but this is down five billion from Dec. 31, 1958.

What General Cook does not report but what is common knowledge in the industry is that five companies are experiencing difficulties from canceled contracts, higher costs and demands for more sophisticated technology.

Among the companies that have reported heavy layoffs due to cutbacks are Bell, Fairchild, Grumman, Republic, Martin and Chance-Vought. Any new contracts in 1959 will affect others. Consequently, the companies are fighting each other's missiles, to stay in business themselves.

These are some of the facts about the missile program which wrong public relations conceals from American public opinion.

Among the companies that have reported heavy layoffs due to cutbacks are Bell, Fairchild, Grumman, Republic, Martin and Chance-Vought. Any new contracts in 1959 will affect others. Consequently, the companies are fighting each other's missiles, to stay in business themselves.

These are some of the facts about the missile program which wrong public relations conceals from American public opinion.

Communist Activity in Cuba Reported Despite Denials

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There is no question about the fact that the Communists have gotten a toe hold in Cuba. They have a strategic position in the labor movement there and are taking advantage of the disturbed conditions, just as they have in other Latin American countries.

The Communists do not always appear in the open—it is being denied, for instance, that they are in any way responsible for the movement which led to Fidel Castro's triumph. But they somehow manage to affiliate with the radical side and by infiltration influence the course of events.

Noted in Venezuela
Communist activity has lately been noticeable, too, in Venezuela, where American oil companies now are being harassed as the government there is prodded by the radicals.

What should the policy of the United States be toward the Central and South American governments that are responsive to Communist influence? To withhold recognition or to withdraw it when once granted means an intensification of the friction. The strategy used in the Middle East—to try, by getting inside a country, to checkmate Communist tactics—may also be feasible in this hemisphere. No line of policy, however, can be laid out with exactness, as each case has its own special circumstances.

There is particular significance, therefore, in the comprehensive report just filed with President Eisenhower by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University. In the last few years the President's brother has been giving a lot of time, without compensation, to government missions studying the Latin American problem.

He has not only made official visits to many countries but has participated in lengthy conferences with government officials here.

He says in his report: "I believe the suggestion of Vice-President Nixon is sound and would be applauded by Latin America itself—that we have an 'Abrazo' (embrace) for Democratic leaders, and a formal handshake for dictators. Trivial as this may sound, I recommend that it be our official policy in relations with Latin American leaders and nations."

We have made some honest mistakes in our dealings with dictators. For example, we decorated several of them. Most Latin American nations did the same, and in grander style. Whatever reason impelled them and us to take those actions, I think, in retrospect, we were wrong.

"I recommend that we refrain from granting special recognition to a Latin American dictator, regardless of the temporary advantage that might seem to be promised by such an act. 'I most emphatically do not believe that we should withdraw our programs from Latin American countries which are ruled by dictators. We should not withdraw or diminish our technical assistance programs, diplomatic missions, loans or other activities. Reasoning which caused one to feel that we should do so would lead logically to the conclusion that throughout the world we should cease cooperating with any nation in which democracy is not complete. Patently, such a policy would paralyze the conduct of all foreign relations."

"Non-recognition and non-cooperation would not help any other nation achieve democracy. Most peoples want freedom, though many have never experienced it. By co-operating with them, even through dictators, by keeping open the lines of communication—one may hope that a growing understanding of the strength, glory, and basic morality of democracy will enable the people of a harshly ruled country to achieve and maintain democratic institutions of their own design."

"We must be careful in deciding which leader deserves a mere handshake and which an 'abrazo.' In Latin America one finds widely varying degrees of freedom. At least one nation which today is labeled by some a 'dictatorship' has greater freedom of the press, of assembly, of speech, of worship, and of research and teaching, than do several others which are generally conceived to be democratic."

"An important consideration, it seems to me, is the direction a nation is taking. Throughout Latin America, a strong and irresistible trend toward freedom and democracy is evident. We should watch this trend in each country, and encourage it in any way that may be appropriate, without violating the fundamental policy of non-intervention."

The foregoing excerpt is an illustration of the complexities encountered in trying to encourage the cause of freedom without antagonizing a dictator who can harp on American companies that have invested millions in his country. If a "dictator" doesn't receive the "special decorations" which he covets so as to enhance his standing in his own country, he gets miffed, and diplomacy finds itself with vexatious problems.

Summit Talk a Mistake

Yet it is important not to become too fraternal with the dictators, and this could conceivably also be done at conferences with Khrushchev. Looking back now, the Geneva Conference of 1955 was a mistake, as it tended to discourage the champions of freedom in the captive countries.

"De facto" recognition may seem "practical" from a material viewpoint, but in the long run America's moral force can best be exerted by withholding full recognition from any government until there has been a free election and some form of constitutional administration has been firmly established. # Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—America's leading manufacturing industry at this time of year is the making—and breaking—of resolutions.

Children, just before Christmas, are as good as they can be. But most adults wait until New Year's to start their reform waves. As soon as Santa Claus disappears over the horizon, children start acting worse, and their parents start acting better.

At least their male parents do. For that is an odd thing about the making of new year resolutions—it is pretty much of a masculine delusion. The thought that her conduct might need a yearly overhaul is unthinkable to the average strong-minded woman.

Rough for Wife

But this is a rough time for a wife just as the house to adjust to the master of the house when he ceases to regard himself as one of nature's noblemen and decides he is, in fact, pretty much of a bum.

Yep, that's all I am, just a bum," he tells himself in self-pity. "And not even a good bum. I'm a bum bum. I don't see how you've put up with me all these years."

Abject Hero

Listening to this is pretty painful to a wife. But even more painful is having to put up with her abject hero during the halo-wearing period that follows.

He is going to do so many things to improve himself and lead a better life. He is going to give up smoking and drinking and poker playing. He is going to quit borrowing money and start living within his means. He is going to concentrate on his own work and quit telling the boss how to run the office. He is going to be kinder to the children and help his wife more with her household chores. Yes, he is going to improve himself in a hundred ways. And for a while he does.

His strange, martyr-like behavior is unimpressive to all around him—friends, enemies, wife and children. Even the family dog wonders what came over him.

Mother is kind of worried, too. In the week since father insisted on lending her a hand in the kitchen he has burned himself twice, broken four plates and a cup, and thrown out three pieces of silverware in the garbage.

Tires of Code

But by the end of the second week at most father himself tires of a self-imposed code that would bore an angel in heaven. As his rise to virtue was dramatic, so is his fall.

There comes a morning when he refuses to leap out of bed and do deep knee bends. He has two pieces of toast again, his old quota, instead of one.

That night when he returns from work he mixes himself a martini, lights up a cigar, kicks the dog off the sofa, and lets down himself. He tells Junior to do his own housework and quit looking to him for help. He informs his wife: "Don't ask me to take you any place tomorrow night because I ain't. I'm playing poker."

The tension that has gripped the house for two weeks immediately disappears. Mother and Junior look at each other and smile. Even the dog grins.

$16 Million Deal Results in Sale Of Chicago News

CHICAGO (AP) — Field Enterprises, Inc., owners of the Chicago Sun-Times, has bought control of the Chicago Daily News for an estimated 16 million dollars.

Marshall Field Jr., head of Field Enterprises and editor and publisher of the Sun-Times, and John S. Knight, editor and publisher of the Daily News, made the announcement jointly Monday.

Field paid $50 a share for his more than two-thirds interest and offered the same price to holders of the balance of the stock. The total number of outstanding shares was listed as 481,293 of which more than 75 per cent were held by Knight Newspapers, members of the Knight family, and executives and employees of Knight papers.

Purchase of the minority holdings by Field would boost his outlay for the Daily News to an estimated 24 million dollars, thus making the deal one of the biggest newspaper transactions in history. In 1955, S. I. Newhouse bought the Birmingham (Ala.) News, the Huntsville (Ala.) Times, a TV station and three radio stations for $18,700,000.

The Daily News building also becomes the property of Field Enterprises. It was erected in 1929 at a cost of $8,786,000.

The purchase of the Daily News reduced the Chicago daily newspaper publishing field to two groups — the Tribune company which publishes the morning Tribune and the afternoon Chicago American; and the Field Enterprises.

The Sun-Times, a morning newspaper, has an average daily circulation of 561,978 and a Sunday circulation of 630,095. The News, an afternoon newspaper, has an average circulation of 375,371.

Nursing Home Blaze Is Fatal to Four

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Four persons died in a fire that destroyed a Martinsburg nursing home early today.

Li. Philip Stein of the Martinsburg Fire Dept. said three convalescent patients and the woman operator of Smith's Nursing Home perished in the flames. Five other persons were rescued — one in critical condition.

The names of the victims were not immediately available. Stein said the fire was not reported until about one hour after smoke was first smelled in the 10-room building. He said the home was of frame construction with asbestos covering.

Reports Progress

OTTAWA (AP) — U. S. and Canadian Cabinet members today got down to the brass tacks of American import limits, Canadian antidumping laws and other issues disturbing relations between the two North American neighbors.

The five-year-old Joint Canada-U. S. Committee on Trade and Economic Affairs began its annual session Monday night with a three hour discussion of the general North American and world economic outlook.

Canadian Finance Minister Donald Fleming, who presided, said heartening progress was made by the eight ministers and some 24 advisers.

The Americans were scheduled to fly back to Washington this afternoon.

Grotewohl, Nasser Meet

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl interrupted his sightseeing today for an unscheduled meeting with President Nasser.

Nasser was accompanied by his minister of state for presidential affairs, Aly Sabri, but Grotewohl's aides waited outside. It was the second meeting between Nasser and Grotewohl since the latter arrived Sunday night on his first official visit outside the Communist bloc.

There was no announcement of the purpose of the meetings.

Office Building Left in Ruins by Niagara Falls Fire

Firemen estimated the loss at a half a million dollars.

They brought the blaze under control at 1 a. m., four hours after it started. Three firemen were injured, none seriously.

Hundreds of spectators watched the flames shoot high into the air. Dense clouds of smoke boiled from the brick and frame structure, the Glick Building, at the corner of Falls and Second Streets.

About 100 persons at a dinner fled to safety when the fire broke out. Among them were two judges and the Niagara county sheriff.

At one time the fire threatened a bank building across a narrow alley from the fire and the New York Central Railroad station across the street. Both buildings were evacuated.

When the roof fell in, showers of sparks and embers flew into the air. Firemen played hoses on nearby buildings. Only one small fire started and that was quickly put out.

The building contained many law offices on the upper floors. Small shops and a restaurant were on the ground floor.

Firemen say the blaze apparently started in a men's wear shop. The cause has not been determined.

Seven volunteer fire companies, two from Canada, helped fight the fire.

Salk Recommends 4th Polio Shot

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the anti-polio vaccine that bears his name, today recommended a fourth shot to increase immunization against crippling infantile paralysis.

But Dr. Gordon Brown, a University of Michigan scientist, said that while a fourth dose undoubtedly would be beneficial to many, "what is most needed is complete (three-shot) immunization of the larger number" who have as yet had no vaccine at all.

The president of the American Medical Assn., Dr. Gunnar Gunderson, declared "there is no time to lose" in the two-shot plus-booster campaign; that partial immunization is not enough and that doctors must see that the uninformed, the indigent and the complacent are vaccinated.

And Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., on whose 1955 findings Salk's vaccine was accepted as "safe, potent and effective" suggested on the same platform today that Americans be made to comply with a code of health, just as they must with housing, electrical and plumbing codes.

All four appeared on a symposium sponsored by the University of Michigan School of Public Health in connection with the kickoff of the National Polio Foundation's 1959 March of Dimes campaign to raise 65 million dollars to combat arthritis and birth defects, as well as polio.

Could Seal Off Area

PARIS (AP) — The retiring NATO commander in southern Europe said today that Allied forces could seal off the Mediterranean against Soviet submarines in the event of war.

U. S. Adm. Robert P. Briscoe spoke to a press conference en route home. He said the submarine problem in the Mediterranean could be handled by blocking Gibraltar and the Dardanelles.

Quemoy Warned Of Heavy Attack As Retaliation

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists today threatened the Nationalist-held Quemoy Islands with severe bombardment in retaliation for a Nationalist artillery attack the Reds claimed killed a number of mainland children.

The Nationalist defense Ministry denied the Red charge of hitting a commune nursery on Amoy Island during an artillery duel Saturday. The charge and threats were broadcast by loudspeakers from Amoy to Quemoy.

Rear Adm. Liu Hsiu-tu, the ministry spokesman, called the charge a shameless, outright lie.

The Communists began the current series of bombardments of the Quemoy on Aug. 23. For the last two months they have shelled the island only on odd-numbered days, usually lightly. They fired 246 rounds Monday and withheld fire today.

The governor of Formosa, Gen. Show Chi-jou, said more than 500 Nationalist soldiers had been killed in the bombardments.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dipped in slackened trading early this afternoon after posting six straight record highs.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mostly fractions to about a point.

A correction in the market's latest upsurge was regarded as healthy by market analysts who noted that the market is "not a one-way street." The business news remained good.

The market was slightly higher at the start and the ticker tape was late for a nine-minute period in early dealings. Prices turned mixed within a half hour and the trend was lower after the first 60 minutes of trading.

Steels, rubbers, aircrafts, rails, coppers and oils were mostly on the downside. Chemicals, electrical equipments, tobaccos and drugs were irregular.

Lorillard rose around 3. Republic Aviation was up more than a point. General Dynamics was off about a point. United Aircraft and Boeing were down fractions.

Goodyear was off about 2. Du Pont was a 3-point lower. Also losing were Eastman Kodak, American Telephone and Goodrich.

U. S. Steel and Republic Steel were down about a point apiece while Bethlehem dropped fractionally.

Chrysler was a firm spot in the automotive group. Losses were taken by General Motors, Ford and American Motors.

Illinois Central was down about a point while Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio were off slightly. Chesapeake & Ohio was a bit higher.

U. S. government bonds were firm in quiet dealings.

Rest on Sea

Balloonists In Air Only Three Days

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — The balloon trip of four Britons trying to span the Atlantic lasted only three days, it was disclosed today. They spent 21 more days floating at sea in the balloon's gondola, constructed for double duty as a lifeboat.

The three men and a woman set off Dec. 12 from the Canary Islands, seeking to float on the wind 3,000 miles to Barbados. They reached here Monday after a fisherman picked them up at sea.

On Limited Rations They had traveled about 1,200 miles by air and more than 2,000 miles by sea. All four had been on rations of a few ounces of food daily since Dec. 15. All looked thin but otherwise in fairly good condition.

They had cut loose the balloon in a storm for fear of going to heights where they would lose control and the bag would burst. This was after, at one stage, they jettisoned a radio receiver and sleeping bags to lighten the balloon.

Their balloon was called the "Small World."

Hunt for Infant

kidnaped Friday night, only 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Police were aware the note might be the work of a crank, but hoped it might provide some lead to the baby's whereabouts.

Except for the note, the search remained fruitless.

It was difficult to determine if the note-bearing diaper had clothed the Chionchio child.

When some of the baby's garments were found in a vacant store in Brooklyn Saturday, a diaper was not among them.

See Frustrated Act

Police are convinced the abductor is a frustrated mother. They are checking hospital records for the names of women whose children died at birth.

The kidnaper is believed to be a heavy-set blonde, between 30 and 35, who was seen at the hospital Friday night.

Police watched for two women fitting the description whose backgrounds single them out.

One is a New York City woman missing since Thursday, who had been a patient in a mental hospital.

The other is Mrs. Betty Jean Benedict, who took a baby from a San Francisco hospital in 1953 and returned it nine days later. She is also wanted for parole violation.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

December 17, 1958, was a gala day in the investment world. The Dow-Jones industrial stock averages made an alltime high at 569.38. Two other events made the front pages of the public press.

The first was the announcement that the international banking firm of J. P. Morgan and Company — perhaps the greatest name in the financial world—and the big $3,000,000,000 Guaranty Trust Company of New York are to merge. The Morgan shares advanced $50 in price quickly and the Guaranty shares about $7 each.

Thus, in 1959, a four billion dollar institution, whose foundation rests in deep international soil, is being created. It is to be called "Morgan-Guaranty."

The second announcement was to the effect that the world's leading public utility enterprise, American Telephone and Telegraph, was to split its stock three for one.

The avalanche of buying orders following this news swamped the marketing machinery and trading had to be suspended temporarily. The stock advanced $21 a share in a single trading session. With over 70,000,000 shares outstanding, the total market value of the shares increased more than $1,400,000,000 in a single day.

Sometime during 1959 the company will have in excess of 200,000,000 common shares outstanding.

These significant events can be of tremendous importance to all investors. An obvious one is: The smallest investor in America can travel in the best financial society.

Whoohoo! With less than $100 in savings can become a part owner in the great international firm of Morgan-Guaranty and later this year, he can be initiated into a partnership arrangement with the world's greatest public utility enterprise.

During 1958, I received bushel baskets full of letters from investors who have been flummoxed out of money by buying fraudulent or risk-laden securities. With hundreds of leading world enterprises like Morgan, Guaranty, and Telephone making available to the investor the soundest shares one can purchase, such losses are unnecessary and inexcusable.

In 1941, the Morgan shares became available. A registered nurse with $1,000 savings bought five shares at $200 a share, thirty, and working cabbage, grew, bought them. A milk delivery man in New York City took on a few shares.

Guaranty stock has been publicly available for nearly a century. A Lithuanian charwoman working for the bank purchased ten shares. This led directly to a flock of buying by industrious workers who came here from Europe. The bank has prospered, and so have they.

American Telephone and Telegraph has long been the most popular investment in the world's history. There are more than 1,600,000 investors holding this premier equity. With the coming three for one splitup, the stockholders' list should boom through 2,000,000 in a hurry and by 1960, should total 3,000,000.

Safe predictions grow out of these events. Here are a few:

1) Economic America is going to enjoy a prodigious growth in the decade ahead.

2) Scores of corporations are going to merge, thus heightening the competition and improving corporate efficiency.

3) Countless enterprises will split their stock, declare stock dividends, and sell shares on a favorable basis to present stockholders.

Who will enjoy this growth? Stockholders. Every reader of these lines who has no shares whatever should buy some during 1959. Buy the best, always. And diversify.

The Forum

(Q) "Lately you have been advising buying bonds. Have you changed your basic ideas?"

W. A. (A) Not at all. But with billions of ultraconservative dollars around, I have been stressing the attractive character of sound bonds selling at big discounts from face value.

He is due back in Washington Jan. 19 after visiting several American cities. It was learned he will fly at 8 a. m. EST Wednesday to Cleveland to confer with industrialist Cyrus Eaton. The American millionaire recently conferred in Moscow with Khrushchev and Mikoyan.

After Cleveland, Mikoyan goes Thursday to Detroit and Friday to Chicago, with stops later at San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. An expected Dallas visit was tentatively ruled out.

Mikoyan and Dulles used almost identical language in describing their 95-minute noontime talk. Each said they discussed Berlin, the whole German question, disarmament and trade. Informed of the order of importance with Berlin and Germany hogging most of the time.

These officials also said nothing was decided in the Dulles-Mikoyan meeting. After Mikoyan's out-of-Washington visits, they are expected to come to closer grips in what Mikoyan called "a further exchange of views."

State Labeled Center of Baby Black Market

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State has been called "the center of the nation's baby black market" in testimony before the joint legislative committee on matrimonial and family laws.

Witnesses at a committee hearing Monday pointed to Chicago, Miami and Greece as the principal supply sources for the children.

Ernest A. Mittler, special consultant to the committee who has surveyed adoption practices in the state, said he investigated the cases of 69 babies brought into New York from Chicago during a five-month period.

$2,100 for Child

Mittler said New York couples paid an average of $2,100 for a child.

There are no prior interviews or evaluations of the suitability of the child for the adopting parents, Mittler said.

The couple gets the child directly from the mother, he said, after the lawyer has set up the meeting. He said the physical transfer is arranged in this manner to circumvent an Illinois law prohibiting the attorney from handling the child himself.

The couple later receives an Illinois adoption decree.

Mittler said a New York City official with "extensive contacts in Greece" has helped to place Greek children through a Manhattan law firm, which he did not identify. The adopting parents were charged about $2,800, Mittler said, and tentative arrangements could be made by telephone.

Contacts in Greece

Mittler said that in Florida's Dade County, where Miami is located, "it is common practice for New Yorkers to go shopping... for children."

Mittler suggested that social welfare laws be amended to require a certificate of authorization before a child can be brought into New York State. Such a certificate should be issued, he said, only after proper study of the suitability of the home for the child.

He urged that all states adopt a standard licensing statute for child placement agencies.

The legislative committee's two-day hearing in Brooklyn is the third in a series on reform of adoption and child placement laws. Prior sessions were held in Buffalo and Syracuse.

Don't Apologize for Your Looks; Maybe You're Right

Nothing detracts so much from a woman's appearance as her own apology for the way she looks.

You're glad to run into the acquaintance at the shopping center and too interested in her to pay much attention to how she looks. Then she starts apologizing for "looking so awful"—and, sure enough, you notice that she does look a little bedraggled.

You compliment a woman on a dress you've never seen her wear before. And then she tells you how old it is and how sick she is of it—and it doesn't look nearly so well any more. A woman's hat seems attractive—until she points out that her face is really too round for the shape of the hat. Then you notice that it really isn't as becoming as you'd thought at first glance.

Only when one of the guests at a party starts apologizing for not being as dressed up as everybody else do her clothes seem in the least out of place.

You tell a woman how pretty she looks—and the general effect is spoiled when she starts telling you about what a frizzy permanent she got last week. It's a chore trying to take to a woman who is always busy smoothing her hair, adjusting her collar and tugging at her skirt. Even though her apology for her looks is unspoken—it's there in those patting, pulling gestures.

No woman always looks her best or is dressed perfectly for all occasions. But it usually doesn't detract from her personality—until she starts apologizing and calling attention to herself.

Practical Benefits Bound to Come From IGY

Nature Yielding Many Secrets To Scientists of 66 Nations

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Over a luncheon table, Germany's Dr. Julius Bartels searched a moment for the right words:

"We set out traps for nature. Then when nature does something, we often learn her secrets."

To Bartels, professor of geomagnetism at the University in Goettingen, this was the essence of the IGY, the 18-month International Geophysical Year which just ended.

Greatest Hunt
It brought the greatest single hunt in history for knowledge — about earth, sun, weather, and the new province of space into which humans are eagerly reaching. The traps for nature were tended by 30,000 scientists and volunteers from 66 nations in a huge cooperative effort.

Now nature is yielding a treasury of secrets. The full wealth of meaning and significance, however, must await months or years while scientists analyze the literally millions of observations concerning weather, gravity, electrical phenomena, and other forces and events affecting the destiny of the earth and its people. Practical benefits are bound to come from IGY. The sun, our life-giving star, was one main focus of IGY.

For every minute of 18 months, the sun was held under constant watch by 100 observatories around the world, to count its stormy sunspots, record its gigantic flares, or explosions which often choke off radio communications and hang the shimmering Northern Lights in our sky.

And the sun obliged, staging the greatest sunspot activity since 1778. Special rockets soaring up for brief glimpses discovered that flares shoot out great bursts of X-rays. X-rays always are beaming out of the sun. It's the added X-rays from flares which apparently cause radio fadeouts on earth.

Secret About Sun
For the first time, rockets reached above obscuring clouds during an eclipse of the sun, learning that the solar X-rays stem from the sun's corona or atmosphere, not its disk.

Other rockets, looking into space with eyes tuned to see only ultraviolet light, found that some stars are wrapped with nebulous radiation not explainable by the energy the stars are thought to possess.

IGY scientists set their traps to learn what the earth's magnetism and electrified ionosphere, and what actually happens on the sun. Out of it all could come knowledge to achieve limitless energy for man's machines and power stations on earth.

Rockets flying 50 to 150 miles up found the earth's atmosphere to be perhaps 10 times denser at high altitudes than had been thought, with strong daily and seasonal variations — factors influencing weather.

A huge surprise was discovery through U. S. Satellites of two great and hazardous bands of radiation ringing the earth at altitudes of 1,400 to 8,000 miles.

Vanguard — the little grapefruit-sized satellite — turns out to be one of the most useful space voyagers.

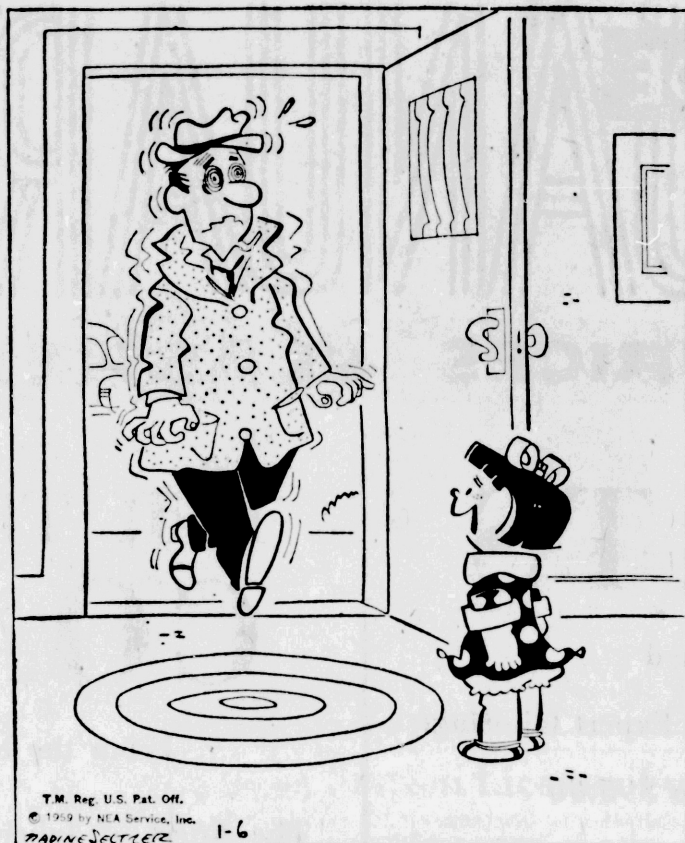

Swinging out in a highly faithful orbit, it is so precise in its journey that it is being used in place of stars to get accurate navigational "fixes" on earth, and to check guidance instruments and devices at missile test centers.

Coming — fairly soon — are weather satellites which can track hurricanes, take a global view to tell man what is coming in climate, droughts or floods, help determine whether the earth is warming or cooling.

Telescopes mounted aboard satellites will fathom mysteries of stars, planets and universe. And man's next great communications system probably will be a group of special satellites relaying messages from earth back to any other place on earth. Next: Weather, ice and sea.

"Lots of traffic on the freeway?"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Always glad to hear from my friend and fellow-historian, Harry J. Siemsen of Sawkill. He writes "In regards to your article in the Dec. 16 Freeman on the Mother Goose History of Ulster County and Anniversary Songs, I am interested in the collection of the history of our county and find many leads in your articles. I was not aware of the booklet till you mentioned it. There has been very little published of our history and folklore and most of it is hard to find, like the above mentioned booklet. 'The Mother Goose History and other items were sent to me sometime ago by A. F. Hallinan, city engineer, and Wait Riggins and I was surprised at the interest. It was written for fun and no doubt if read out loud by someone with a good voice could be enjoyed no end today.

Here are some lines, picked at random from the booklet. It should be sung to "If I Was Young As I Used to Be" and "Ta-ra-ra-boom-dee-ay" (with variations). This is called "The County, Complete." "Why Ulster County has had to wait, since Sixteen hundred and fifty-eight, for Kingston City to celebrate. No matter why. It is not too late. And all the County, and half the State, will storm the City, in Nineteen-eighty—The great 'Two-Hundred-and-Fifty' date . . . They'll come on steamers, or special trains—Afoot, or mounted—all, Kingston-bound. From hills and valleys for miles around. . . From Leibhardt, Zena, The Vly, Pine Hill, New Paltz, West Hurley and Rutsonville. The Greenfield workers will be on hand. With dairymen from Dairyland, Gourmets who relish Tabasco sauce, And glaziers, covered with Glasco Moss."

Other lines go thus: "The early risers, from Riseley's ranch. And quiet-lovers from Olive Branch. The strongest giants of Samsonville. . . The girls from Callicoon Hook will show, Saint Remy fashions in calico; The Turnwood turners will bring along The Atwood, Willow and Woodstock throng. With belles, quite airy, from bright Belleaire, West Shokan, Peekamoose, Won't they stare? New Hurley, Connelly, Hussey's Hill, Mount Marion and Ohioville.

The author of this booklet is given as "Alliteratics." Mr. Siemsen writes further in his letter: "A short time ago a book called 'The Abeland Folk Song Book' by Norman Cayden was published. It seems it contains 101 old folks songs and ballads from folksongs and singers in Ulster County. Some of the songs date back to the 1700's and have been carried along by oral musicians," he writes. He also says that this book should have had Ulster County or Catskill Mountain Folk Song in its title, and should be of interest not only to historians, but singers and music teachers as well. "Here are our own songs, not only the words but also the music, arranged for piano and guitar. One portion of the book is devoted to the history of the songs he heard sing the songs." Mr. Siemsen says that he will stop by with his sister and show me this book. I would like to see it and let the folks of the Catskill Mountain region and Ulster County know what is in it.

Perhaps the readers can answer the following question sent in by G. M. Wager, Modena correspondent: "Have you or any of your readers any information on the Ulster County Bible Society, who presented Bibles to veterans of the Civil War in 1860?"

Mind Can Be Sharp at 50, But You Must Exercise It

By MARIE DAERR

So, like plenty of other people, you think your mind doesn't function as well at age 40 or 50 as it did when you were a youngster?

Then prepare for an argument from an expert on "aging."

She is Der Wilma Donahue, head of University of Michigan's division of gerontology.

"We are getting more and more evidence that mental powers don't decline after middle age," says Dr. Donahue.

One survey rechecked a group of middle-agers who, 30 years ago, took intelligence tests from University of Iowa researchers. Now, 30 years later, these "youngsters" were checked again.

"Results showed a sizable gain in average intelligence scores," said Dr. Donahue. "In fact, no one who took the tests a second time did poorer than he did 30 years ago."

Further University of Michigan research also handed learning laurels to a group of older people. These older adults and a group of younger people were asked to recall incidents from the same passage in a book. "The younger people reread the material less often," reported Dr. Donahue. "But the older people recalled it more accurately."

In England, two groups, one younger, one older, were asked to do a semiskilled task. The youngsters made no plans, but plunged in. The older people asked more questions, seemed doubtful about results.

"But the older group did the job as well," said Dr. Donahue.

Dr. Donahue pointed out that an emotional crisis, such as losing husband or wife, can do things to one's mental functions. But, she added, the person who has many interests will recover better than the person who has let his world shrink.

Mental powers can also decline from purely physical causes.

"But the reverse can happen," Dr. Donahue said. "Tests at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., showed that, when diet and hormone treatment restored certain physical functions, mental scores improved, too."

In Dr. Donahue's opinion, "plain, lazy thinking habits" can be a real villain.

"To keep your mind healthy, continue to use it and enjoy it," she said. "If you think mental decline is inevitable, and shrink from outside contacts and interests, you may realize your fears."

Q—My son, unmarried, has invited me to be his guest on a fine vacation trip, one that I couldn't afford to take. I'm afraid Dad could be a wet blanket and I hesitate to say yes. What do you think?—L. B. W.

A—I'd accept, promptly—and enjoy every minute. I'm wagering your son wouldn't have asked you if he hadn't thought you would be fine "young" company.

Q—How often should I check my Social Security record with the Social Security Administration?—L. F. Y.

A—At least once every three years. You can get your record to date by getting Form OAR-7004 at the nearest Social Security office, filling it out and mailing it to Social Security Administration, Candler Bldg., Baltimore 2, Md. Or just write a letter stating name and address, date of birth and Social Security number.

Q—In a recent column you stated that private nurses are not covered by Social Security. If they are self-employed, wouldn't they be covered?—B. R.

A—You are right. A self-employed nurse would be covered under this Social Security category.

Historian's Annual Report On Paltz Area Towns Given

(The following annual report of Kenneth E. Hasbrouck of New Paltz, historian of the Town and Village of New Paltz, Town of Gardiner and for the first time this year the Town of Shawangunk was released for publication today.)

During the early part of 1958, the historian was honored by being asked to serve the Town of Shawangunk in the same capacity as he has done for some years for the Towns of New Paltz and Gardiner. It has been a task made most agreeable due to the excellent cooperation and help given by the three supervisors and mayor. Sincere appreciation for the many favors extended by Fred DuBois, former supervisor of New Paltz and now county treasurer, would be difficult to express. He has always been interested in assisting all efforts for improvement in our historical facilities. Mr. DuBois served as supervisor from 1955 to Dec. 31, 1958. A record of the past year must also include a "thank you" to former Mayor Robert Reid, who served the Village of New Paltz from April 1, 1949 until Aug. 1, 1958.

The Hudson Champlain Celebration Year, or New York's Year of History is finally with us. When plans were first begun in 1957, the event seemed a long way off, but time has an uncanny way of finding us and it is the fortunate person who finds himself prepared. Due to the far-sightedness of our people, it appears that we will be ready to do our part to make this one of the most exciting years New York State has ever experienced. This should be a year of travel in our state and the communities will put their best foot forward to welcome each visitor. A brief resume of activities in Ulster County include:

Coming Events

January — Auto Show with scene setting celebration—Kingston Ulster County Branch, Holland Society of New York dinner.

February—Men's Club dinner and celebration.

April 20 — State Constitution Day in Kingston. Special exhibits in Senate House.

May—Boy Scouts demonstration of Indian Lore.

July — Sacerties will have 4th Celebration.

June 7—Commemorating Gov. Stuyvesant proclaiming Thanksgiving Day, Kingston.

June 30—First Governor inaugurated in Kingston—George Clinton, 1777.

June 4, 5, 6 — Homecoming days in Ulster beauty contest. Queen will reign over rest of festival days.

June or July—Celebration in connection with old D & H Canal, Old Dutch Church celebrating 300th Anniversary—Kingston.

July 12—Hurley will have annual Stone House Day.

Woodstock—Summer revival of art shows. Famous artists from Woodstock being honored. Possible revival of old Marverick Festival in October. Special plays at Playhouse.

August 1—Saturday, annual Stone House Day, Huguenot Street, New Paltz, N. Y.

August through October — Marlborough displays "The Remel."

October 3—Harvest Festival, New Paltz. New Paltz will hold an Apple Harvest Festival tying in with old farm exhibit, crafts and 19th Century home life. Some stone houses to be open.

October 3 — Town of Gardiner will welcome visitors to its old mill and scenic farms.

October — Shawangunk will work its program in with the Harvest Festival program. Lectures on French and Colonial days at New Paltz State Teachers College.

October—Wine and grape festival—Lloyd.

November — Quaker Church, Plattekill.

It really looks like a full year for our Ulster County. The events have not all been fully organized, but news concerning each and every one of them will be forthcoming.

Work on Disposal Plant

During the past year New Paltz has been undergoing extensive construction in the form of a sewage disposal plant. Great gaping holes for the pipe lines have caused many a good citizen and tourist inconvenience, but progress demands that we lay aside our personal desires for the good of all. Soon it will be all over and the mud combined with general upheaval can be relegated to the past.

The problem of housing appears to be subsiding and the growth of the towns is healthy, but moving at a rate which can be met comfortably by town and village officials.

School Space Is Problem

Space for the children in schools remains a large problem for the taxpayers and boards of education. Additions to schools and new buildings are needed practically as fast as others are built. It appears that the day is fast coming when there will have to be another method of raising the funds drastically needed to finance education to augment the present school tax. This area has been most fortunate in having citizens who try to meet the needs as they arise for building programs.

Stone House Day, held annually on Huguenot Street, New Paltz, was successfully concluded on August 2 for its eighth consecutive year. Approximately 1400 people visited New Paltz and hundreds of others came later in the summer, drawn by the excellent publicity which the magazines and newspapers have given the Street of the Huguenots. The interest given the street is now moving out to other areas of the community as people are finding that we have many items of interest for the tourist in Gardiner, Shawangunk and the Town of New Paltz.

Attracts Record Throng

The Colonel Josiah Hasbrouck House, open for its fourth season, had more guests in 1958 than in any previous year. The House has recently been given to the Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz and is rated as the best museum of its kind in Ulster County. Located in the Town of Gardiner, many plans have been made for its continued improvement.

The 275th anniversary of the Reformed Church in New Paltz was celebrated October 4 and 5 with due observance. The new School of Christian Faith and Prayer dedicated at that time stands as a memorial to the event.

In July, 1958, the Town of Gardiner completed a survey of town roads and held meetings to determine names for each road and street. The project was completed to the satisfaction of the citizens. Most of the old names were kept, thereby preserving an interesting heritage of the Town. Great concern was given to accuracy in naming the roads.

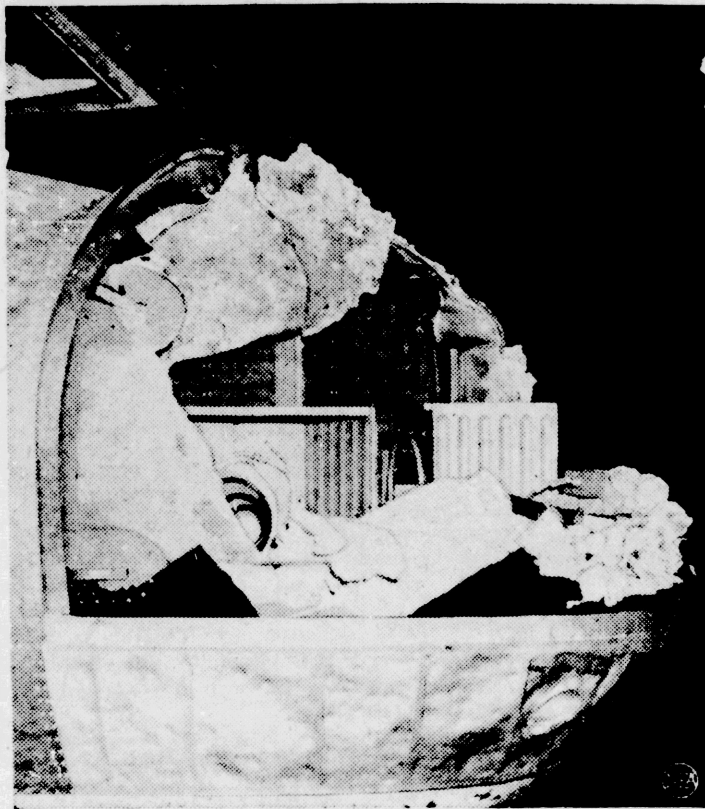

During the past year, the historian has made an effort to begin collecting the oldest and most interesting documents dealing with the Town of Shawangunk. These documents have been placed in the Town Building, Wallkill, N. Y.

Genealogy Completed

The Deyo (Deyoe) Family Genealogy has been completed and a number of copies have been mailed out to members of the family. The work was done in collaboration with Mrs. William Heidegger and will now provide a source of references to all members and descendants of the Deyo family. It is hoped that we will have such a book for all the families in a great need for a cross index to people who lived in Ulster County. Letters come in daily from people who ask for information concerning a person or persons who resided here at one time. It is necessary to search for a long time to find a family unless the writer gives some data to place the individual as to period and place of residence. Gradually this problem is being solved to some degree of success.

During the past year the following family names in Ulster County have been requested in research: Carpenter, Deyo, Webb, Bennett, Bogardus, Gale, Weed, Van Gorder, Robinson, Van Wagenen, Terwilliger, Crispell, Wright, Cronk, Wygant, DuBois, Bloomer, Dumond, Mgrecraft, Rose, Van Duzer, Bfmet, Van Denburgh, Jenkins, Reynolds, Feree, Smith, Jones, Greene, Hardin, Wells, Terpenning Stringham, Hill, Van Vliet, Decker, Hasbrouck, Forbes, Fiero, Dilley, Ostrander, Low, Lyboit, Cottin, Davenport, Winslow, Every, Bevier, Snyder, Teulon, Quackenbos, Neher, De Long, Hornbeck, Vreeland, and others. Files are kept on each family as data is requested and answers go out to the person requesting it. In this way, a tremendous amount of family records, filed individually, is being built up.

It has been of interest to note the variety of requests that come in during the year. They vary from questions concerning a piece of furniture a person has seen in one of our museums; books dealing with certain topics; church records; how to

FORTY-SEVEN SECONDS OF HELL—The battered nose of an Air Force B-52 jet bomber bears testimony to the savagery of a storm encountered by the plane 8,000 feet over Carswell AFB in New Mexico. The plane, flying at about 400 m.p.h., struck a hail pocket undetectable on weather radar. Damage was severe but the pilot managed to get the valuable ship back to the base where repairs will make it serviceable.

THEY BROUGHT IT THROUGH—Hailstones the size of baseballs struck these J-57 jet engines powering a huge B-52 jet bomber over Carswell Air Force Base, N.M. The jets also "digested" large pieces of metal torn from the bomber during the storm. They still managed to perform satisfactorily while the plane flew for 2½ hours after running into the storm.

Mrs. Rockefeller Not Ready Yet to Pledge '60 Vote

By ROBERT T. GRAY

Associated Press Staff Writer, ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today she was "not at all ready" to pledge her vote for any potential candidate in the 1960 presidential election.

"Are you?" she fired back at a reporter who raised the question at a news conference.

The state's new first lady thus brushed aside attempts to draw her into widespread speculation that her husband, Gov. Rockefeller, might be the Republican candidate for president two years hence.

First News Session

The news conference was the first held by Mrs. Rockefeller since she and her husband moved into the state's rambling Executive Mansion Dec. 31.

These were among her answers to a barrage of questions she faced in a sitting room at the mansion:

She is 5 feet, 10½ inches in her stocking feet, has no special designer for her clothes, likes to shop around in department stores for styles for tall women.

Her hobbies are mostly in the fields of health and nursing. She "plays at" skiing and skating but not too well.

Her chief regret is that she never went to college.

She hopes to be active as First Lady and help her husband but "I don't expect to run around making speeches every place."

The Rockefeller family had discussed for many years whether a member could win high public office but no decisions were made until Nelson decided to bid for the governorship.

Happy By Decision

She was surprised and delighted over his decision.

She has been a Republican all her life except for four years as an enrolled member of the Liberal Party. She joined it after volunteer work in New York City hospitals indicated a need for better municipal services. She left the Liberals in 1952 to support President Eisenhower.

For the conference, Mrs. Rockefeller wore a black wool dress with a gray pinstripe and a cowl collar and black kid pumps. Her jewelry was a garnet-and-gold pin, a double strand of pearls, a chain bracelet and a gold wrist watch.

She showed the news staffers several of the highly modernistic paintings that the Rockefellers have moved into the mansion from their New York City home.

Natural Choice

MOORESVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. J. L. Reedy was a unanimous selection for the honor of being first to drive over the town's new $150,000 bridge. The old span had collapsed two years before just seconds after Mrs. Reedy drove across.

floored the linoleum gyps and made them return the money to the victims.

Gyp Salesmen Coming Under Ever-Closer Policing Now

By The Associated Press

The salesman's smile was so bland and engaging that the Long Island housewife didn't notice the foot in the door.

Twenty minutes later, she had signed up for a set of flatware and plastic dishes priced at $39.90—in installments. The salesman, who said the offer was connected with a newspaper survey (it was not), had bought the set for $16.

The case is typical of thousands of door-to-door gyp transactions that are coming under ever-closer policing by business and government watchdogs.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz put the outfit out of business. Lefkowitz credited the Better Business Bureau (BBB) with lending valuable help in the investigation.

The BBB is a private organization taking a leading role in the fight against sharp operators. It has seven offices in the state: New York City, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, Schenectady and Binghamton.

Lack Police Power

By its nationwide nature, the BBB can blow the whistle on gyp artists who cross state lines in search of the fast buck. But it does not have the police power of the attorney general.

In addition, the consumer council's office under the Harriman administration conducted a number of public hearings to draft safeguards against fraudulent sales practices.

Many door-to-door salesmen are honest and make legitimate offers. But others specialize in outright frauds. The purported "bar gains" range from linoleum to television repairs, from chimney-cleaning to sewing machines.

Another outfit torpedoed by Lefkowitz' office offered $4.95 radios that—as the attorney general put it—"produced no more than the faintest reception of a radio program."

The company banked on advance orders to produce the money for radios ordered from suppliers. Lefkowitz reported that the company, in less than two months, gyped the public out of almost a million dollars across the country.

Another outfit induced servicemen overseas to make payments toward automobiles they could pick up when they returned to the states.

The attorney general's consumer frauds division found that the G's choice of a car was rarely available. When the serviceman asked for his money back, the company returned only part of the money he had paid in.

An Army sergeant who paid in $1,600 was offered only $1,200, division men said.

The division still is working to straighten out the transactions.

A racket exposed on Long Island involved an offer of left-over lots of "top-grade inlaid linoleum." It turned out to be the cheapest grade of "oilcloth linoleum" sold at profits ranging from 600 to 800 per cent.

The Queens district attorney stores. Later the grocery section was vacated and only the stores on the western end of the group continued to serve as places of business. The whole block of stores from the corner of Chestnut and Main west to Henry's Paint and Hardware was leveled by bulldozers and now a large new shopping center has taken its place.

New Legion Home Soon

The Sullivan-Shafer Post 176, American Legion will soon have a new home. The site is on the north end of Chestnut Street and the Legion members are making good progress in the construction of the new building.

Library Fair Day which has been held in recent years in conjunction with the Stone House Day will become a separate affair in 1959. Proceeds of the Fair go toward purchasing more books for the use of the public and to improve the facilities of the library.

The State Teachers College, New Paltz, now boasts of over 1,200 students and like all rapidly growing institutions feels the need of more space.

It is the belief of the historian that part of the work should be devoted to publicity which will make people aware of the interesting places and items to see in the area. It would be interesting to know how many people have visited the Tuthilltown Mill and seen the floor prepared by the old cold water method. The mill dates back to the 18th Century. Have you taken the children to see the remains of the Delaware Hudson Canal and the cement caves? A trip through Creek Locks, Rosendale and High Falls is most interesting.

Perrine's Bridge still stands! It is gratifying to know that there must be a force greater than man that provides for the old covered, wooden bridge. If the words spoken for and against the venerable relic of another age were dollars, it could very well be covered with gold.

During the past year inventories have been made of contents of both the Col. Josiah Hasbrouck House and the Jean Hasbrouck (Memorial House). There has been further attempts to compile and edit more Ulster County church records for the permanent collection. People are invited to come to the historian or make use of the library (both genealogical and general reading) in the Colonel Josiah Hasbrouck House. The collection of books dealing with the area continues to grow and each new one published is added to the library of the Historian.

New Look for Old House

The Abraham Hasbrouck House on the street took on quite a "New Look" in an original style of architecture in 1958. The wooden wing which was added to the house about 1830 was taken off and the dormer window to the rear removed. The new roof was by way of a restoration measure as well as protection for the house. The wooden shingle, single sweep roof now looks much as it did when it was built about 1692-1712. Some of the stone work has been repaired and the house has been painted (shutters, door frames and windows).

Of Many Things

Distaff Chatter
American men have made such an intense study in what we may term "Leg-ology" that women today have to live up to those masculine ideals and as a result spend more time on leg care and more money on sheer stockings than any other women in the world.

A look at the shoe and stocking industry today bears out this fact. Women today can even wear small rhinestone jeweled stockings for evening just to give their legs that glamorous look.

Beauty consultants have some definite ideas on how to make your legs look better.

First of all, women with heavy legs should remember to keep the hemline of their dress just below the calf. They should never wear tight or extremely loose skirts. They look far better in stockings with seams, provided, of course, they keep the seams straight.

Short, full skirts are taboo for the women with thin legs. Women with short legs should wear their skirts slightly shorter to show more leg.

If you want to look graceful sitting down, the beauty consultants tell us that you should always cross your legs at the knee or ankle. Never sit squarely on a chair, but instead sit turned a little to the side and slant the legs parallel, close together and crossed at the ankles.

A beauty danger post is crooked seams. If you can't keep the seams of your stockings straight, then wear the new stretch stockings or try the seamless hose. You'll find that when you look right, you will invariably feel right.

Party Ideas
Just in case there's a teenage party coming up at your house you might want to treat your guests with pop corn and soft drinks. One 10 ounce can will make as much as 12 quarts of popped corn, and more important, everybody can get fun out of making it. The informality of "guest participation" adds a lot to any party and you can even make your pop corn a little different by sprinkling it with grated cheese right after popping. Popping corn is fun for the family also... try it some time.

A light touch: Day-old cake crumbs browned in butter give a delicious topping for big dishes of canned apple sauce. For extra fanciness, add a spoonful of ginger whipped cream to each dish.

Idea for the lunch box packer: include in the lunch box a little container of canned apple sauce, either plain or flavored with a shake of nutmeg and cinnamon, or gratings of lemon peel, or coconut flakes. Apple sauce is a refreshing moist dessert to top off sandwiches.

To serve with meat: try hot buttered canned apple slices dusted with paprika. Very good, especially with pork chops. And easy to prepare.

These are wintry days when steaming hot drinks come into their own. For one such, we suggest a toddy made of two cups of brewed tea, two cups apple juice, one tablespoon sugar and six whole cloves all heated together, then strained and served with lemon slices. This makes enough for four servings.

CHANGING TABLES IN A RESTAURANT

Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much appreciate your opinion on the following matter: Last evening a friend and I went into a restaurant for dinner. We were shown to a table and handed a menu. I soon discovered that we were sitting in a draft and suggested to my friend that we move to another table. When the waiter came back to take our order and saw that we had changed our table he seemed quite perturbed. Will you please tell me if we were wrong to do this?

Answer: No, but you might have said something like the following to the waiter: "Sorry, but we have moved to this table because there was a draft at the other one."

Announcing A Second Baby
Dear Mrs. Post: My little girl is eight years old and I am expecting another child soon. Would it be proper to send announcements for this one also? My husband does not think we should send them out, but I can't see why not. The arrival of this second baby is any less important than the first.

Answer: I think it is true that the arrival of a first baby is always momentous news. Reports of others are taken each time more casually. However, there is no reason against sending announcements no matter how many times there may be occasion to do so. In this particular case it seems to me that after eight years, a second baby would cause as much interest as did the first.

"Black Tie"

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I received an invitation to a large supper and dinner. The invitation specifies "Black Tie." Will you please tell me exactly what this means?

Answer: "Black Tie" means that the men are expected to wear tuxedos and the women not too elaborate evening dresses.

If your problem is the procedure for a double wedding, you will find details in leaflet E-2, "Formal Wedding Procedure." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E-2, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York, 19, N. Y.

French Idea of Married Life Is Better
Than American, Says Wife of Top Star

Associated Press Women's Editor HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I want an old-fashioned house with an old-fashioned fence and an old-fashioned millionaire."

This has been the announced ambition of Berthe Fredrique Jourdan since she was a 10-year-old school girl in France. Now, as wife of the French film star, Louis Jourdan, and mother of his 7-year-old son, also named Louis but never called Junior, life is complete for small, blonde, casual and always chic "Quique" Jourdan (pronounced "Keek").

"It's the luckiest thing in the world for Louis that he married a wife with no talent and no ambitions," says Quique. "In France we are brought up to know how to appreciate a husband. There it is not so easy to get married, because there a man can have a mistress and nobody even raises an eyebrow. When you do get married, it's for life."

"I think it is a better system than here, where you go to Las Vegas and get married on a whim, and if it doesn't work out, go back to Las Vegas and get a divorce."

Louis and Quique met in southern France during the German occupation of Paris, when he was an established French star and a member of the French resistance movement at 20, and she was just a girl with a goal. They were married in 1946 and came immediately to Hollywood, where they have lived ever since, making annual excursions back to Europe.

The Jourdans are members of Hollywood's ultra-chic social circle, made up mostly of producers, directors and an occasional writer. They entertain charmingly in their comfortable, mellow Beverly Hills home, furnished mostly with French antiques and books. They avoid night clubs and public appearances. They enjoy life. Jourdan has played opposite most of filmdom's top-voltage stars. But none of these charmers give Quique an instant's anxiety. Quique says she did not swoon when she first met Louis, and that it was his mind and his soul that first attracted her, rather than his looks.

Your Extension Service Offers Knowledge;
Services Are Invaluable to Area Residents

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

On January 20, Extension Service 25 unit leaders will gather at Municipal Auditorium for an all-day session on "The Flower Garden." With them will be Arthur Lieberman of Cornell University, Extension specialist in ornamental horticulture.

These leaders will spend the day learning about flower borders, edging, placement of plants, width of border, creating the illusion of a larger border. They will also learn about color and how to make a plan for proper gardening. They will then go back to their respective units and pass the information on to their membership which totals 1600 in Ulster County alone.

But how many of us know the workings of the organization sponsoring this unit of instruction—its aims and objectives.

They call it the New York State Extension Service. And it represents a fine network of communication between extension specialists and agents in New York State, farmers, farm and city women and youth, backed by the research of the New York State College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Cornell University and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Purpose and Goal
Their aim is "to teach all of those things that are necessary for fuller and richer family living on the farm, in the home and in the community."

Its slogan: Better farms, better homes, better communities. Extension work in agriculture, under other names and in other forms, according to a Cornell Extension bulletin issued on the Service, has been a part of our American scene as early as 1785. It was then that George Washington, farmer, and Benjamin Franklin, scientist, assisted in the formation of the Philadelphia Agricultural Society. The purpose of this organization was to import improved seed and livestock for the benefit of the members. Within a few decades, state, county, and community agricultural societies sprang up in many parts of our young nation.

Picture Today

Today there are Extension agents in all agricultural counties of New York State. They include county agricultural agents, associates and assistants; home demonstration agents, associates and assistants; 4-H Club agents, associates and assistants, and a few other special agents.

There are county agricultural agents in 56 counties, home demonstration agents in 55 and 4-H Club agents in 54.

Extension specialists and agents teach by all methods. They have organized boys' and girls' 4-H Clubs and women's home demonstration units. Farm people are advised and encouraged in the organization of livestock associations and commodity groups. The Extension takes information as well as gives it for the basis of future unit studies on the current needs of the people whom they serve.

Facilities for All

All the facilities and services of the Ulster County Extension Service are available to everyone. You need not be a member of a unit in order to avail yourself of the Extension's wonderful store of information.

The Home Demonstration Office, ready to help anyone who calls on them, is Miss Everette Parsons, County Home Demonstration Agent and her assistant, Miss Alice Aho.

Here, women will find enlightening tips on making breads, millinery, sandwiches, wool skirts, simple dresses, housecoats, leather gloves and gardening.

Information is also available on color in the home, enameling on copper, living together with the family, refinishing wood bowls. All these topics have been subjects of study on the unit level.

If you are planning to build a new home, remodel an old one, re-decorate the interior—you

This 'n' That
Oh, let us do a skip and hop, and ring the bells with "Ding" and "Dong"! And drink a toast of soda-pop--and greet the New Year with a song. Let's don our paper hats with glee, and shoot off Grandpa's 45, and yell: "Hooray!" and likewise: "Wheel!" and thank the Lord that we're alive! The Old Year was a tough old skate, but he has passed beyond recall. He was a rough old reprobate; but now there'll be a change for all. For each of us has a chance, to right the wrongs he may have done, and boot misfortune in the pants, and start afresh at twelve-o-one. The poor old world is out of joint, but if we all will do our part, We'll make a brand new starting point, with peace and love and strength of heart. We talk of peace and brotherhood: now let's not only talk... but DO: let's love our neighbors as we should, and live a year that's really NEW. Let's scrap our prejudice and hate, and fling away mistrust and fear. Walk humbly with the truly great, and pledge the Lord the coming year. --Karl Flaster

Ralph--If you loved me, why did you refuse me at first?

Sal--What happened when you asked the boss for a raise?
Al--Oh, he was like a lamb.
Sal--What did he say?
Al--Bah!
350,000 Chances to Make Good in 1959!
There are 365 days in 1959 with sixteen waking hours in each of these hours.
If our arithmetic is correct, that gives each of us 350,400 waking moments in 1959 in any of which we may stir our ambition, may hear the call to higher ideals, to self improvement or in any one of which our machinery of thought may evolve a splendid idea--may set us on the road to the heights of success.
Each of these moments, tiny segments of eternity, is a portion of our life, each a potential crisis for better or worse in our life--they seem many in their total of a lifetime--yet how swiftly we pass through them--we pass, note, the moments do not.
Wouldn't it be well to make 1959 count more in the use of these precious fragments of our lives than we've ever done before?

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—One man was killed and three were injured Monday night when a B47 crashed on takeoff at Plattsburgh Air Force Base.

In satisfactory condition were Capt. Robert C. Lowe, 35, of College Point, N. Y., the observer, and Capt. William J. Duffy, 29, of San Diego, Calif., the aircraft commander.

FPC Given More Time For Tuscaraora Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission has another extension, until Jan. 19, to report its findings to the U.S. Court of Appeals on Indian land sought for the Niagara power project.

The commission was ordered by the court to determine whether taking the land from the Tuscaraora Indians would interfere with the original purposes of the reservation.

The second extension of time for the commission's report expired Monday.

The Tuscaraoras sued to prevent the New York Power Authority from taking 1,383 acres of the Indians' reservation near Niagara Falls, N. Y., as part of a reservoir site for the 700 million dollar power project.

Fire Razes Auto Agency
BALLSTON SPA, N. Y. (AP)—An automobile agency on the outskirts of this Saratoga County village was destroyed by fire Monday night.

Six fire companies fought the flames in zero weather. All of the new cars were removed from the one-story building.

Edward Adams, owner of the agency, estimated the loss at $50,000.

Firemen said the fire started in the agency office. The cause was not determined.

34 Persons Die As Riots Continue In Belgian Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—Thirty-four people are reported killed and about 100 seriously injured in two days of rioting in Leopoldville, the Belgian Congo capital.

Shops have been set on fire, Catholic missions ransacked, and schools and police headquarters burned out.

Some Stoned, Beaten
Europeans have been stoned and shot at and mission priests have been beaten by the rioting Africans.

Most of the dead were believed to be Africans shot by police or troops.

A state of siege has been proclaimed, and jeeps of troops armed with machineguns are patrolling the main avenue of the city's large African sector.

Barbed wire barricades have been set up. Firearms have been distributed to the European population.

Road blocks have been set up around the Leopoldville area. Movement across the river from Brazzaville, in French Equatorial Africa, is stopped.

Situation Explosive
Troop reinforcements patrolling in armored cars and barbed wire roadblocks brought at least partial order. But the situation remained highly explosive because native leaders apparently had lost control of their followers.

The riots started Sunday with a political meeting of Congolese at which future independence for the Congo was mentioned. The crowd started shouting, "We want independence now."

The crowd burst out of the African area into the Avenue de Gaulle, a street of low buildings with shops selling goods for Africans. Most of the shops are run by Greeks and Portuguese. The Africans broke into the shops, ransacked them and set them on fire.

The riots were the worst since World War II. Several small riots have occurred lately, indicating unrest among the increasingly politically conscious natives.

Glass Strike Talks
Move to Philadelphia
CINCINNATI (AP)—Negotiations in the 92-day-old strike at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. were transferred today to Philadelphia.

A meeting between management and the United Glass and Ceramic Workers union will be held there tomorrow afternoon with federal mediators.

Transfer of the negotiations from Cincinnati followed a recommendation of Joseph F. Finnegan, chief of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, after efforts to end the strike bogged down here.

The negotiators had been in Cincinnati for two weeks. The strike began Oct. 6 and has kept some 13,000 workers idle in 11 plants.

Sherbondy said significant progress has been made in settling all issues except seniority problems at the Creighton, Pa., plant.

Would Change Setup
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—William B. Lawless Jr., Common Council president, urges the council today to move toward a metropolitan form of government.

Such a government would unite the city and the surrounding towns and villages.

As the first steps toward a metropolitan government, he suggested that officials from the city, towns and villages discuss common problems informally and that the Legislature be asked to create a department of urban affairs.

Rhee to Run Again
SEOUL (AP)—A government spokesman said today that President Syngman Rhee will run for a fourth term next year.

Rhee will be 84 next March and has been South Korea's only president since the republic was founded in 1948. The presidential election is expected about May, 1960, by which time Rhee will be 85.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar is one commodity whose price is closely watched and regulated by the U. S. government.

What happens to Cuba's crop as Fidel Castro takes over could affect the supply and price here but not the extent it might if such regulations didn't exist.

That is because Cuba is allowed to send only part of its normal crop here, and because chances of getting more sugar from other areas are excellent.

Last year Cuba sent 3½ million short tons of raw sugar here. Its quota this year—out of a total estimated U. S. consumption of 9½ million tons—is set at just over 3 million tons. The Cuban Sugar Institute estimates this year's crop there—if harvested and marketed without hitch—should be just under 6 million tons. That would make plenty and to spare for the U. S. market.

The United States regulates sugar sales under a law designed to keep domestic cane and sugar beet growers as happy as possible while still letting off offshore possession and allies maintain their economies.

Before the sugar harvests start the U. S. Department of Agriculture has the duty of estimating how much Americans will consume during the year. It then divides that by formula among the suppliers — the domestic sugar growers, Cuba, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

Their harvesting and refining is then tailored to these quotas and to their own estimates of how much more sugar they can sell in markets other than the United States.

If American consumption drags, the Department of Agriculture lowers the quotas allowed into the market. Thus drooping prices are revived.

Traders say that this year the outlook for harvests in all sugar growing areas is excellent. But unless the wholly unexpected happens, the American housewife shouldn't see any sugar shortages in the stores or any wide swings in prices.

In the Jacoby transfer bid the response of two diamonds to the opening no-trump shows a heart suit and demands that the opener rebid in hearts. The two-heart response shows a spade suit and demands a spade rebid while the two-spade response is the transfer to clubs and the three-club response the transfer to diamonds.

If responder wants to play the hand in diamonds, hearts or spades he can bid three immediately in that suit. These last responses are all made with strong hands only and are game-forcing bids.

Now take a look at the North hand. Your partner opens one no-trump and you see that the hand will do better in hearts than in no-trump. If you are playing normal bidding with two hearts as a sign-off you can bid two hearts but sometimes your partner won't respect your sign-off. Playing the transfer bid you simply bid two diamonds. Your partner bids two hearts dutifully and is annoyed when you pass but pleased when he sees the dummy.

South will make two or maybe even three hearts. West has to open something and his lead will cost him a trick. If North is declarer East will open the queen of diamonds and set the hand against any normal method of play.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The local sports scene which has been in a state of suspended animation since the start of the Christmas recess revives tonight with Port Jervis' visit to the Kate Walton field house; picks up steam Friday night at Newburgh and reaches an early-year climax next Monday night with the civic testimonial to the all-conquering Kingston High School football team.

The testimonial to Bill Burke and his boys and assistants Russ Cunningham and Bill Hurley on the scale of Monday night's extravaganza is long overdue. As a community we have been rather smug in accepting Kingston High's incredible skein of victories. Mayor Radel and his committee are to be commended for staging this victory party.

Some of our service clubs—notably Kiwanis—pay annual homage to the team, win, lose or draw, in the form of a luncheon, but Kingston as a city has never given its high school athletes recognition comparable to the accolades heaped on the Newburgh Academy gladiators in the form of the Block-N dinners. And the Hill City has continued to honor its athletic warriors through the harrowing six-year ordeal of never heating Kingston in the traditional Thanksgiving Day football games.

Nothing less than a capacity attendance at the KHS cafeteria next Monday night could serve as proper recognition or pay mental tribute to the young men who have brought fame and glory to Kingston High School. If you are a high school rooter at heart, you should be there. This has been a tremendous football team and era—these unbeaten titans of 1956-57-58. We may never see their likes again in our time.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

All those guys blushing are sportswriters across the country who rated Louisiana State over Iowa in the final Associated Press poll for college football champion of the year. Iowa's performance against California in the Rose Bowl was a thing of beauty, proving that nothing is more eye-catching or thrilling than an explosive running football squad. You may fill the air with a thousand passes like the professionals used to do and you will come up with glorified basketball. But football as viewed by the fundamentalists is still a running game and nothing in football can match the long climax run. . . . Pro basketball and pro football need a bit of hippodrome to sustain the scoring marathons of the day. The two games between the New York Football Giants and the Cleveland Browns and the subsequent running football play-off thriller proved that touchdowns don't come cheaply when capable defenses get down to business. We may sound like a purist, but we don't like cheap baskets and cheap touchdowns.

Of Men and Mice:

The two great sports plays of 1958 were Elston Howard's diving catch on Red Schoendienst in the sixth game of the World Series and Pat Summerall's 49-yard field goal for the football Giants against the Cleveland Browns. The latter came right out of the storybooks. . . . Dick Whitsett, former Poughkeepsie all-around athletic star, may switch to softball next year, marking the end of a fine athletic career. . . . Monty Stickle, Notre Dame's named Dutchess County Athlete of the Year for the second time, an unprecedented honor. Stickle was designated Saturday by a 17-6 vote over pitcher Don Hempe on the second ballot. Phil Versace, the bowling ace, drew three votes on the first ballot, Hempe had 7 and Stickle 13. If Stickle didn't make the major 1958 All-Americans, it wasn't Lindsey Nelson's fault. The NBC sportscaster gave Monty a half dozen plugs on the Iowa-Notre Dame telecast. . . . Coach Fritz Jordan of Arlington High, who managed the Arlington team in the Interstate League described the league as "the strongest independent league" in the East. Has he ever heard of the New York-New Jersey League? And would they like to play a series next year?

If you find a golf ball in southern rough this winter or in your favorite rough in the spring, label it "L. S. Open Winged Foot GC". Don't think you've missed the event. Ever since the 1958 ended Claude Harmon, the Winged Foot professional, has had the quoted line stamped on balls he sells regardless of the make. Elaborate plans are being made for the tournament June 11-13.

Deadline Is January 13 For Women's State Pins

Deadline for filing entries for the 26th New York State Women's Bowling Association tournament at Schenectady is Tuesday, Jan. 13.

All advance reservations have been picked up and entries are now rolling into the Watertown tournament office at 330 Electric building.

Associations leading with entries to date are Rochester, Buffalo, Albany, Syracuse, Troy and Poughkeepsie. Munsville WBA has again entered 13 teams. Last year Munsville won the percentage trophy with 13 teams and a membership of 104.

Schenectady Bid

The members of the Schenectady-Scotia Association are making an intensive effort to equal their 1958 record of 2222 teams. Schenectady's entry is headed by the 1958 team champions Di Giorgio's Pizzeria, captained by Marty Christian and was the first team entered in the tournament.

Addresses Football Testimonial Monday

Augie Lio, former Georgetown University and National Football League star, was announced today as a speaker for the civic testimonial dinner honoring the undefeated Kingston High School football teams of 1956, 1957 and 1958 on Jan. 12.

A sportswriter for the Passaic, N. J. Herald-News for the past 10 years, Lio will join Capt. Barney Gill, assistant West Point football coach, and Angelo Bertelli, former Notre Dame quarterback, in the tribute to Coach Bill Burke's fabulous championship squads in the high school cafeteria at 6:30 p. m.

Considered one of the most brilliant raconteurs at north Jersey sports functions, Lio was picked on the New Jersey All-State team from Passaic High School in 1936, and clinched his scholastic career with a 45-yard field goal to bring the team an undefeated season.

Georgetown Great
He enrolled at Georgetown in 1937 when the Hoyas, who have since abandoned football, were at the crest of their gridiron performances. Lio played on a Georgetown squad which, in three years, won 22 of 23 and was defeated in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Lio was picked All-Eastern guard in 1939 and 1940. He was an All-America choice in 1940. Andrew J. Murphy III, chairman of Mayor Edwin F. Radel's dinner committee, noted that Lio's addition to the speaking program will bring two All-America choices before the city-wide testimonial to the high school teams since Bertelli was selected for similar honors in 1941, 1942 and 1943 at South Bend.

Selected for two College All-Star games in Chicago, Lio performed with such top company as Jackie Robinson, Tommy Harmon, and Forrest Evashevski. He played seven years of professional football with the Detroit Lions, Boston Yanks, Philadelphia Eagles and Baltimore Colts. Lio was voted "all-league" guard two years and was the NFL's fourth leading scorer in 1946 while playing with the Eagles, and after all the returns were in, he was chosen Georgetown's top football player in the first half of the century.

61 Players Invited

The dinner has been arranged to pay tribute to 61 players who contributed to the three-year undefeated record, a feat never achieved in KHS football annals. Murphy said today that tickets "are going quickly" and urged those who have not purchased them to buy them by Friday from any of the following: Mayor Radel's office, city hall, Recreation Department, 97 Broadway; Tommy Maines Sport Shop; Kaye Sportswear and from members of the committee including Murphy, Coach G. Warren Kias, Tom Heneberry, Jim Gilpatrick, Bill Mahoney, Charles J. Tiano and Dick McCarthy.

A cross section of the community will pay tribute to these 61 players in what will undoubtedly prove one of the finest hours in the history of Kingston High School football, and with Capt. Gill, Bertelli and Lio on the speaking program a tremendous testimonial has been arranged," Murphy said.

Bob Cousy High On HC's Blaney

BOSTON — (NEA) — Bob Cousy believes that George Blaney can't miss becoming an All-America basketball player for his alma mater, Holy Cross.

Cousy of the Boston Celtics qualifies as an expert on Blaney as well as All-American. At the request of Coach Roy Leenig of Holy Cross, Old Magie employed the six-one youngster as counselor at his summer camp.

"We scrimmaged three on one and he showed good two-hand shots, an unusually tough defense, and a hard-working attitude," says Cousy.

Blaney of St. Peter's Prep in Jersey City is one of two brilliant sophomores expected to lead a Holy Cross basketball revival. Red Shea, a six-footer from the Bronx, is Blaney's backcourt running mate.

Bob Pettit Is Top NBA Marksman

NEW YORK (AP) — The league's most prolific scorer, Bob Pettit, and teammate Cliff Hagan are providing the St. Louis Hawks with the most potent one-two punch in the National Basketball Assn.

Pettit, the former LSU star, remained in first place in the league's individual scoring race for the fifth straight week. League statistics released today showed he has hiked his total to 941 points for a 28.5 average, a clip exceeding George Mikan's 28.4 record pace set during the 1950-51 campaign.

A couple of notches below in sixth place is Hagan, the former Kentucky ace, who has amassed 764 points for a 23.2 mark. No other team has two stars so high on the list of top point-producers.

Trailing Pettit are Paul Arizin of Philadelphia and Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis, locked in a tie for the runner-up spot with 822 points, in figures counting games through Sunday.

Arizin has the edge percentage-wise over the Laker rookie, sporting a 25.2 average to Baylor's 23.8. Next in line are Jack Twyman of Cincinnati, 808 and 23.8 and Detroit's George Yardley, 770 and 22.0.

Greene County Federation Proposes Deer Legislation

Legislation permitting a special deer season in Greene County to reduce the herd in certain sections for crop protection this winter is being sought by Greene County sportsmen.

The Greene County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs has asked Assemblyman William E. Brady of Coxsack to introduce and secure passage of necessary legislation permitting a special open season on a permit basis.

Action by the federation was motivated by reports from member clubs that the deer herds have returned to the apple orchards of Hiram Palmer of Lawrenceville, who reportedly shot 116 deer last year under special permit to protect buds that made the year's apple crop.

It was estimated that deer in his 16-acre orchard last year reduced the value of the apple crop by $1,500 to $2,000.

Saugerties Fish and Game Club members showed concern when the deer kill was reported at one of its meetings last year. It was pointed out at that time that the deer population in that area is part of the herds that browse across the county line into Asbury and West Saugerties.

Prefer Sportsmen

It has been the Greene County Federation's position that if the deer must be killed, it would prefer that individual sportsmen would enjoy the sport of taking them. Palmer has indicated his agreement and has welcomed hunters to stalk on his land.

The federation proposes that legislation permit the State Conservation Department to determine in which areas the special deer season permits should be issued. The number issued would be based on the department's estimate of the number of deer that should be taken to reduce the herd for crop protection.

It was suggested by the federation that permits be issued by county clerks in the special deer season areas, similar to the system now in practice in Putnam County.

The Conservation Department is currently engaged in an experimental program to bait the deer away from the apple trees and into the woods by various means, using alfalfa hay, corn and salt licks. The experiment now in its early stages is under the direction of Albert G. Hall of Stamford, district game manager of the department.

Joe Uhl	F	Bill Pepper
John Kelly	F	Hugh Spangenberg
Holbie Armstrong	C	Harry Boyd
Bob Short	C	Wayne Ramich

Pick Frank Sammons for Old Timer Player Award

Frank Sammons, Kingston High's 1958 All-DUSO catcher, has been chosen to receive the Old Timers Baseball Association Player of the Year Award.

Sammons, who edged his teammate, Don Krueger, for the coveted award, will receive the trophy symbolic of the award at the Old Timers testimonial to Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirich on Wednesday, Jan. 28 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The hustling catcher, who batted .315 during the 1958 season and earned the respect of opposing base runners with a strong and accurate throwing arm, is the third Kingston player to be cited. Joey Hoffman won the first OTBA award in 1957 and Renni Giannuzzi was winner last year.

Sammons entered Ulster Business College in September and will seek a varsity baseball berth this spring.

Meanwhile, the Old Timers Baseball Association has terminated the sale of tickets for the Schirich testimonial. Three hundred persons will attend the dinner.

Olmedo-MacKay Win in Doubles

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Peruvian Alex Olmedo and Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, gained the semifinals of the men's doubles in the West Australian Tennis Championships today, beating Geoff Strang and Bruce Francis, Australia, 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

The first foreign-seeded Americans toyed with their opponents under a hot sun at the Royal Kings Park courts.

The day's competition in the men's division was devoted entirely to doubles.

The singles quarter-finals are scheduled Wednesday, when Olmedo, hero of the Davis Cup Challenge Round, plays top-seeded Rod Laver of Australia. MacKay meets Sweden's Ulf Schmidt. The other American, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, opposes 17-year-old Luis Arilla of Spain, and Andres Gimeno, Spain, meets Tony Ryan of Australia.

The other American doubles team of Buchholz and Chris Crawford, Piedmont, Calif., bowed in straight sets to the No. 1 seeded Australian pair, Laver and Warren Woodcock, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

Cats Keep No. 1 Spot In AP Poll

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer—The unbeaten Kentucky Wildcats—boasting 11 victories, the longest season streak of the country's major teams—held down first place for the third consecutive week today in The Associated Press basketball poll.

But North Carolina State, Auburn and St. John's (N.Y.) all made notable gains.

On the strength of victories over Cincinnati and Michigan in the Dixie Classic, North Carolina State moved into second place. The Wolfpack, fifth a week ago, collected 30 votes for first place and 1,115 points in the balloting by 137 sports writers and broadcasters.

Kentucky, however, garnered 81 first place votes and 1,245 points on the usual 10 points for first, 9 for second etc. basis. The Wildcats padded their victory total by three last week. They will go after their 12th straight tonight at Vanderbilt.

Auburn climbed from ninth to sixth place. The Plainsmen whipped previously undefeated Mississippi State for their 19th straight over a two-year span.

St. John's Tenth

St. John's, winners of the ECAC Holiday Festival, zoomed into 10th position. The voting was based on games through last Saturday. There was an almost complete shuffle in the other positions in the top 10.

North Carolina moved up a single notch to third place. Michigan State bounced back from its N.C. State setback to edge Indiana. This triumph enabled the Spartans to advance two spots to fifth place. Cincinnati, which also lost to North Carolina, tumbled from second to seventh. Kansas State slumped one place to fourth.

Two Illinois teams, Northwestern and Bradley, held the other positions among the nation's elite. Northwestern was ranked eighth after beating Iowa and Notre Dame.

Bradley jumped from 10th to ninth after trouncing Drake Saturday for its eighth straight triumph.

Top 10 teams with first place votes and won-lost records through Saturday, Jan. 3, in parentheses (points on a 10-9-8 basis):

1. Kentucky (81) (11-0)	1,245
2. No. Carolina State (30) (9-1)	1,115
3. North Carolina (4) (8-1)	1,043
4. Kansas State (2) (9-1)	772
5. Michigan State (0) (7-1)	563
6. Auburn (4) (8-0)	552
7. Cincinnati (4) (6-2)	546
8. Northwestern (1) (8-1)	512
9. Bradley (6) (8-0)	468
10. St. John's (2) (9-1)	208

The second tier: West Virginia (11) 165; Mississippi State (18) 148; Oklahoma City (31) 148; Marquette (1) 48; Seattle 45; Tennessee (1) 44; Villanova 31; Texas A&M 28; Illinois 25.

Robertson Gets Big Assist
As Cincinnati Tops Bradley

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It turns out the Cincinnati Bearcats' basketball roster doesn't begin with Oscar and end with Robertson.

The mighty Big O of Cincy had some help Monday night as he and his mates survived their first Missouri Valley Conference test of the season. With Ralph Davis and Mike Mendenhall, Cincinnati battled through two overtimes to nip the previously unbeaten Bradley Braves, 85-84.

All-America Oscar led the scoring with 28 points (slicing his average to 34.3) but it was Mendenhall's rebounding and Davis' five-point spurge in the second overtime that got the job done. Together, they also combined for 37 points, with Mendenhall getting 19.

The Cincinnati-Bradley match of power was the feature of a Monday college program that had eleven of the nation's top 20 teams in action. Only Bradley (No. 9 in this week's AP poll to No. 7 for Cincinnati), and fifth-ranked Michigan State fell from form.

The Spartans lost a big 10 match to Iowa, 80-68, indicating another topsy-turvy season among the Western Conference schools.

Among the other rated elite, Auburn (No. 6) ran its national leading winning streak to 20, nine this season, 60-47 over Mississippi; fourth-ranked Kansas State fought off Iowa State's rally for a 59-56 Big Eight victory; and eighth-ranked Northwestern stayed even with Illinois (No. 20) in the early Big 10 race with an 83-78 decision over Michigan; 11th-ranked West Virginia swamped Southern Conference foe Furman 100-66; and 12th-ranked Mississippi State whipped Alabama 81-64 in South-eastern Conference play. St. Louis, No. 14, and Marquette, No. 15, scored romping victories, the Billikens 79-62 over Pitt despite All-America Don Hennen's 30 points, and Marquette won 104-1, over Chicago Loyola 70-59.

Clarence Wordlaw had 25 points and Dave Gunther 21 in Iowa's victory over Michigan State that cleared the way for Northwestern and Illinois to assume to Big 10 lead with 2-0 records. Willie Jones hit for 26 for Northwestern and Illinois got 18 apiece from Governor Vaughn and John Wessels in bouncing Wisconsin 77-51. Indiana, with Frank Radovich scoring 27, topped Wisconsin 74-69.

LSU Surprised
Auburn, top challenger to top-ranked Kentucky in the SEC, outclassed Mississippi with a balanced attack led by Henry Hart's 16 points. Mississippi State, its 10-game streak shattered by Auburn Saturday, bounced back to beat Alabama behind Bailey Howell's 26 tallies. Florida surprised LSU 69-63 and Georgia measured Tulane 40-33 in other league games.

Towering Bob Boozer and Wally Frank combined for 22 points for Kansas State to beat Iowa State in the Big Eight feature. Surprising Oklahoma handed Missouri its sixth straight loss, 64-59. Colorado beat Nebraska 57-50 and Kansas whipped Oklahoma State 58-49.

West Virginia's rout of Furman was the first straight Southern Conference victory for the Mounties and their 28th straight home victory.

John Frye furnished the heroics in the Atlantic Coast Conference, twisting under for a basket with two seconds left to carry Duke over Wake Forest 58-57. South Carolina of the ACC ended a seven-game losing slump, topping Clemson 83-69.

Princeton opened its Ivy League campaign 72-57 over Penn, and Cornell thumped Columbia 68-52. Brown scored nine straight points in overtime and defeated Harvard 68-63.

Washington and Oregon State bagged their first Pacific Coast Conference triumphs. Washington downed UCLA 68-63 and Oregon State whipped Stanford 68-56.

So all Venturi did was knock out two birds and two back-to-back eagles on the first nine holes for a course record 30, blast on in with a 33, post a 63 for 278 and sit back to see if Wall could crack it.

Wall made a gallant bid, but it was not quite good enough by two strokes.

Wall had gone into the lead with scores of 71-68-68 for 207, and his last round 73 beat such threats as Maxwell, Bolt, Souchak and company.

But it couldn't overcome Ken's marvelous round. Venturi's first two birdies came on putts that traveled 12 and 18 feet. His first eagle came when he whacked a 2-iron on his second shot on the 54-yard eighth hole 18 inches from the pin. It only took a tap to sink the ball.

Sinks 40 Footer
He followed with a putt from down below the ninth green that traveled some 40 feet.

The 30 broke the course 9-hole record of 31 set by Bolt in 1956. Venturi took a bogey four on the 12th when his ball hit a spectator. But he birdied the 14th and 16th holes with 29 and 3-foot putts, and birdied the 18th with a 12-foot putt.

His 63 equalled Bolt's course record, also set in 1956.

Wall collected $3,400 for his 280, while the runner-ups were: Maxwell, 72 for 281 and $2,200; and Sanders, 74 for 282 and $1,000.

Bolt and Souchak had 73s for 283 and a tie with Paul Harney and amateur Allen Geiberger of Santa Barbara. The pros got $1,533.33.

The 12 National Football League clubs played to 4,209,783 paid admissions the past year.

The professionals will come close to filling the huge Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum with the All-Star Pro Bowl game, Jan. 11, the last showpiece of their biggest season.

The colleges had best give this a lot of thought. Better yet, do something about it. If they don't it won't be long now.

The money men played to 5,006,124 in 72 championship games, an average of 41,752. The superior college football powers, loyal alumni, tradition and all, should be doing so good.

Thirty-six pre-season pro games, from east to west and north to south, averaged 30,000, with 70,000 attending the Detroit Lions' meeting with the College All-Stars in Chicago and the skrimish bringing out the Los Angeles Rams and Washington Redskins. The Giants' playoff with the Cleveland Rams netted another 59,474 paid admissions at Yankee Stadium, and the championship game with the Baltimore Colts 64,183.

The NFL showed a six per cent increase in attendance, the seventh consecutive year the figure has gone up.

NOW THE MONEY MEN are ready to put on the finest show of all, with the stars of the Western Division combatting those of the Eastern.

The West will have the slickest of all passing quarterbacks, the champion Colts' Johnny Unitas, backed by Billy Wade of the Rams, with receivers like Ray Berry, and backs on the order of Alan Ameche to keep the defense dead honest. Opposing Unitas and Wade in the pitching and ball-handling will be the Philadelphia Eagles' Norm Van Brocklin and the Skins' Eddie LeBaron. Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns will have outside help in the Giants' Frank Gifford and Alex Webster, and others.

This game should be a fitting ending to an overall season that was tremendous and during which the colleges lost many lengths of ground to the play-for-pay boys. It could be as rewarding to the millions who see it on television as the college New Year's Day Bowl games were anti-climax on the heels of the memorable sudden-death title scrap between the Colts and Giants.

IN THIS ERA OF OFFENSIVE football, the college Bowl games were extremely disappointing.

Iowa was the lone varsity to look decent and give the customers a show and run for their money, and California was grossly overmatched. I wasn't particularly impressed by Louisiana State, with Clemson sticking to the old-fashioned hit-for-three-yards routine, I still don't know what the South Carolinians' center was trying to do when the hard pass Alex Webster up the all-conquering Baton Rouge side's lone touchdown. Clemson didn't pass until there was no more than five minutes to go.

The Air Force has made commendable strides in four years, but the chances are its Cotton Bowl game with Texas Christian would be scoreless if they were still playing. The 13 fumbles give you a rough idea. Oklahoma outsped Syracuse with a fake into the line and a pitch out, right and left. The Orange was hitting off tackle when two touchdowns behind and only eight minutes left.

The college Bowl games were the biggest advertisement that professional football ever had.

Venturi Takes LA With A 63

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1959 winter golf season was off to a rousing start today with good-looking Ken Venturi a spectacular winner of the first tournament on the rich money trail.

As the nomadic professionals headed for the next stop, the $20,000 Tijuana Open in Mexico Friday, Venturi counted the $5,300 he picked up off his tremendous come-from-behind victory in the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

At tee-off time at the Rancho Golf Club Monday the 27-year-old pro from Daly City, Calif. played in a threesome with Joe E. Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., and amateur Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., which attracted practically nobody.

The gallery, braving cold, was trailing the leader, Art Wall Jr., Billy Maxwell, National Open Champion Tommy Bolt, Mike Souchak and two youngsters, Doug Sanders and John McMullin.

Eight Strokes Back
Venturi was eight strokes behind Wall after mediocre rounds of 72-71-72 for the Rancho Club's par 36-35-71.

So all Venturi did was knock out two birds and two back-to-back eagles on the first nine holes for a course record 30, blast on in with a 33, post a 63 for 278 and sit back to see if Wall could crack it.

Arrest Driver In Delaware

MONTICELLO, N. Y. (AP)—One of two harness racing drivers accused of fixing a race at Monticello Raceway Sept. 5 has been arrested at Georgetown, Del.

Authorities at Monticello said Monday Charles Wingate of Georgetown refused to waive extradition on a bribery charge and was released in $2,500 bail.

Wingate was arrested under a sealed indictment handed down by a Sullivan County grand jury. County Dist. Atty. Benjamin Newberg said he would attempt to extradite Wingate.

Newberg said Wingate and Harry Burright of Good Hope, Ill., had been accused of fixing the second race at the track Sept. 5. Burright was not named in the indictment. Both were suspended by the State Harness Racing Commission.

A commission spokesman said Wingate moved out from the rail and permitted Burright to come through and win.

Opposing Unitas and Wade in the pitching and ball-handling will be the Philadelphia Eagles' Norm Van Brocklin and the Skins' Eddie LeBaron. Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns will have outside help in the Giants' Frank Gifford and Alex Webster, and others.

This game should be a fitting ending to an overall season that was tremendous and during which the colleges lost many lengths of ground to the play-for-pay boys. It could be as rewarding to the millions who see it on television as the college New Year's Day Bowl games were anti-climax on the heels of the memorable sudden-death title scrap between the Colts and Giants.

IN THIS ERA OF OFFENSIVE football, the college Bowl games were extremely disappointing.

Iowa was the lone varsity to look decent and give the customers a show and run for their money, and California was grossly overmatched. I wasn't particularly impressed by Louisiana State, with Clemson sticking to the old-fashioned hit-for-three-yards routine, I still don't know what the South Carolinians' center was trying to do when the hard pass Alex Webster up the all-conquering Baton Rouge side's lone touchdown. Clemson didn't pass until there was no more than five minutes to go.

The Air Force has made commendable strides in four years, but the chances are its Cotton Bowl game with Texas Christian would be scoreless if they were still playing. The 13 fumbles give you a rough idea. Oklahoma outsped Syracuse with a fake into the line and a pitch out, right and left. The Orange was hitting off tackle when two touchdowns behind and only eight minutes left.

The college Bowl games were the biggest advertisement that professional football ever had.

Hotel Kingston led all the way to defeat Twaalfskill Golf Club, 28-24, and the mighty iron men of Saugerties Amrods ambushed the Jaycees, 39-32, in that wonderful land of basketball nonsense, in pre-cardiac Over 30 League last night at the MJM gym.

With Fred Seither potting 13 points, the six-man Amrod combination built up a 21-13 lead to defeat the Jaycees, who recaptured the lead 27-24 at the three-quarter mark, then fell behind 15-9 in the stretch.

Don Wolven padded the Amrod total with 10 points. Dick Terlingen, who has starred in more rugged circuits, gleaned individual honors for the game with 14 points.

Five Score Six
Five players scored six points in the Twaalfskill-Hotel Kingston encounter in which the linksmen were definitely hampered by the rules prohibiting use of sand wedges and putters.

The Jaycees led all the way, as close as 20-19, going into the stretch. Jack Purvis and Gus Brinnier of the fairway five and Ralph DiPaula, Ray Swierky and Fritz Becker of the Kings-ton tallied six points each.

The distressed Twaalfskill camp announced after the loss that pressure is being exerted on Clarence (Dubby) Raichle, basketball ace of 25 years ago, to join the team.

Attention, Joe; Ted Is Ready

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Attention Joe Cronin: before you take that job as president of the American League, send Ted Williams a contract. Ted says he's going to play in 1959.

Williams, generally recognized as the greatest hitter of modern baseball, listed his intention to play at least another year at an informal press conference Monday night.

"I don't know how long I'll be able to continue in baseball," commented the controversial outfielder. "Three or four years ago I'd have said I wouldn't be playing now. You just can't tell."

Williams, who at the age of 40 won the American League batting title with a .328 average, said he expects to play at least 100 games. "I'd hate to think I couldn't," he said.

The slugging outfielder of the Boston Red Sox was in the city for a sports show at which he gave a dyclastic exhibition. He appeared in fine condition although he complained of being a trifle heavy.

Coaches Select All Star Cagers

NEW YORK (AP)—The coaches of the National Basketball Assn. today selected 10 players to play in the East-West all-star game, Friday, Jan. 23 at the Detroit Olympic. Ten players previously had been selected by the basketball writers and sportscasters.

Haskell Cohen, league publicity director, said the all-star game will be carried on network (NBC) television at the time during which the Friday night boxing bouts normally are carried.

The Eastern coaches picked Dolph Schayes, John (Red) Kerr and Larry Costello of Syracuse, Woody Saunders of Philadelphia and Richie Guerin of New York.

The Western coaches named Jack Twyman of Cincinnati, George Yardley and Dick McGuire of Detroit and Larry Foust and Dick Garmaker of Minneapolis.

Hurley to Plan For 1959 Fete at Thursday Meeting

A meeting will be held Thursday, 8 p. m., at the Hurley Reformed Church to further the organization of Hurley's part in the Hudson-Champlain Festival this year.

Many ideas for possible events and activities have been submitted and Thursday night's agenda calls for a selection of those thought to be most interesting and the formation of committees to carry out the chosen programs.

Events Scheduled

Several events already have been scheduled for the festival. Stone House Day, sponsored annually by the Ladies Aid Society of the Hurley Church is slated for Saturday, July 11, this year. On May 1, Ernest Myers, principal of the Hurley School, has planned to have the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades dramatize a period of Hurley's early history. Plans are being made for a re-enactment of General George Washington's ride through Hurley and his reception at the old tavern on the corner, as it occurred some 170 years ago. Tentative date is Feb. 22.

Other Suggestions

Other ideas suggested for making the Year of History meaningful in Hurley are the composition of a booklet on the history of the town, the compilation of an old Hurley cookbook with original Hurley recipes, a corn festival, a Fourth of July celebration, a folk tale contest of village stories, poetry contests, exhibits, and a newspaper. The committee for the celebration hopes that enough interest can be found to organize a glee club which would sing at several events during the year. Much thought has been given to the possible establishment of a permanent museum within the village.

The other car owned by Joseph Oppenheimer of 302 Wall Street was damaged on the left front end. Mrs. Smith's car showed damage on the hood and grill, police reported. ## As House Leader

GOP Splits Over Halleck Move to Oust Joe Martin

WASHINGTON (AP)—An open battle to oust Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts from the House GOP leadership split the party's 153 representatives today. Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) formally announced Monday night he would oppose Martin for the post at today's party caucus. His action climaxed a behind-the-scenes drive by some members for a younger and more aggressive leadership to combat the overwhelming Democratic majority in the House.

Both Claim Victory

Martin is 74, Halleck 58. Both made advance claims to victory. Democrats, also caucusing today, faced no open battles. They were expected without incident to pick Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), 77 today, for another term as speaker of the House and to return Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.), 67, to the Democratic leadership post. "We have nothing to worry about in our caucus," Rayburn told newsmen.

Martin has held his party's top House post for 20 years. During 16 of those years he has been minority leader. In the four years of the 80th and 83rd Congresses, controlled by Republicans, he moved up to the speakership and Halleck moved in as party leader. Halleck took note of his previous service and added, in his statement, that "in view of developments, I will again be a candidate for Republican floor leader." He did not explain his use of the word developments.

Stems From Losses

Available as possible compromise candidates were Reps. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, Gerald Ford of Michigan, John Byrnes of Wisconsin, and Leslie Arends of Illinois.

The Martin-must-go movement stemmed from heavy Republican congressional losses in the 1958 elections, which trimmed GOP house holdings from 200 to 153. Many Republicans contend that a more aggressive leadership is needed if the party is to fight back to eventual control of Congress, and say Halleck is better able to provide that leadership.

In contrast to the Republicans, the 282 House Democrats went into their party caucus with no visible problems.

Fraternity House Destroyed by Fire

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—Fire swept the three-story brick Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity house on the Williams College campus early today but all the occupants escaped unharmed. The temperature was about 10 below zero. Firemen rescued one student from a fire escape but the others got out unassisted. A college spokesman said the building was about 45 years old.

Democrats Plug For Stepped Up Missile Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats plugged for accelerated missile and space programs today on the eve of the opening of a new Congress heavily dominated by their party.

Top Democrats, including Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and his assistant, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, expressed disappointment with the 40.9-billion-dollar defense program reportedly outlined by Eisenhower and his aides at a White House meeting with leaders of both parties Monday.

Calls Briefing Sketchy

Mansfield said the briefing was so sketchy that "the proper committees are going to have to go into these matters in much greater detail" before Congress knows where the country stands in relation to Soviet accomplishments.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the Senate Armed Services and Senate-House Atomic Energy committees, said the Russian cosmic rocket success means the Soviets have seized the initiative again.

Secretary of State Dulles was reportedly concerned about growing Soviet military strength and space progress.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) was asked if the administration plans to step up space spending.

Dirksen Sees Speedup

"They didn't say so," he said. "They acted like they were moving as fast as they know how."

However, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, a candidate for Senate Republican floor leader, said there will be a speedup in space development, including plans to send a manned rocket to the moon and return. He said there will be "a rather substantial sum" for space programs but he gave no detailed figures.

Driver Fined $20

Bernard Brown, 21, of 87 North Front Street arrested for speeding at 5:25 a. m. Monday was fined $20 and received a 30-day suspension of his operator's license in City Court this morning before Judge Aaron E. Klein. Kingston police reported Brown speeding 42 m.p.h. on North Front Street when arrested by Officer Frank Stip.

Clash Is Likely Over Voter Files

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —

Alabama and federal authorities appeared ready to clash over a compromise today as agents of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission probed voter files in three counties.

The commission won the right to see the voter registration records in a federal court order Monday, but state and federal spokesmen disagreed on several points about the compromise or which the order was based.

Primarily, disagreement was on whether the court order excuses defiant Alabama registration officials from testifying in the commission's inquiry into alleged denial of Negro voting rights.

A commission spokesman said Monday night the agency may still seek to question the registration officials—despite the compromise—if agents fail to obtain the desired information about Negro voting.

But state attorneys led by Atty. Gen. John Patterson said the court order relieves the registrars of the possibility of having to testify.

A. H. Rosenfeld, the commission's director of complaints, said the agency may ask U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to order the registrars to answer questions. He said this would depend on the current county-by-county investigation.

Senator Changes Mind on Kuchel As Senate Whip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) withdrew his support for Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.) as GOP whip today amid signs that Senate Republican conservatives may strike back at rebelling liberals.

The liberal group has nominated Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky to oppose Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois for GOP floor leader, and Kuchel for succeed Dirksen as party whip, or assistant leader.

But the insurgents, captained by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, appeared likely to let go unchallenged the re-election of three veteran Republicans to leadership posts.

The question was before a closed meeting of the liberal group today, but both Aiken and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York said they favored naming no candidates for other posts.

This would mean that the 34 GOP senators, meeting Wednesday, rename Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire as chairman of the party policy committee, with Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts as chairman and Sen. Milton Young of North Dakota as secretary of the Conference of All Republican Senators.

Kuchel thus far has no announced opposition for the whip's job, but Goldwater indicated there may be another candidate. He did not comment on whether he himself might seek the post.
